GOVT FLIP-FLOP ON ROHINGYA HOUSING IN DELHI OUTSKIRTS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE Centre on Wednesday did a flip-flop hours after a minister applauded a decision to provide government accommodation to Rohingya refugees in Delhi's outskirts. It said there was no direction to provide EWS (economically weaker section) flats in Bakkarwala to illegal migrants from Myanmar.

The day began with Union minister for housing and urban affairs Hardeep Singh Puri tweeting, "In a landmark decision all #Rohingya #Refugees will be shifted to EWS flats in Bakkarwala area of Delhi. They will be provided basic amenities, UNHCR IDs & round-the-clock @DelhiPolice protection."

Several individuals and social media users slammed the government 'support' to the Rohingya and sought similar relief to Hindu migrants from Pakistan as well. The VHP termed it shocking, with its working president Alok Kumar saying, "Rohingyas are not refugees but infiltrators. That had been the consistent stand of the Union of India including in its affidavit filed before the Supreme Court. The proposal to allocate accommodation to Rohingyas is deplorable." The Aam Aadmi Party, too, joined the attack, alleging the Centre had hatched a plot to permanently settle Rohingyas.

As the outrage grew, the Union home ministry issued a statement saying it has not instructed relocation of the Rohingyas. "The Government of Delhi proposed to shift the Rohingyas to a new location. MHA has directed the Government of Delhi to ensure that the Rohingya illegal foreigners will continue at the present location at Kanchan Kunj, Madanpur Khadar as MHA has already taken up the matter (their) of deportation," it said.

It complained that the Delhi Government had not declared the present location (Madanpur Khadar) of the refugees as a detention centre.

About 1,100 Rohingyas have been staying in tents in Madanpur Khadar on which the Delhi government reportedly spends about ₹7 lakh per month. Following a high-level meeting held in July, it was decided to allot EWS flats to Rohingyas. The Delhi Police were directed to provide security to the premises.

Pro-Pak slogans on Clubhouse: Case booked

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

BENGALURU police have taken up a suo motu case after some youngsters raised pro-Pakistan slogans during a discussion on the social media app, Clubhouse. The incident allegedly took place on the night of August 14 and one of the participants in the discussion had taken screenshots of the pro-Pakistan comments made by a user and few others with the Pakistan national flag as their display photo. The same was shared on social media. After the discussion, a few of them allegedly posted messages daring the authorities to take action against them.

Taking the issue seriously, the police have registered a suo motu case in Sampigehalli Police Station under IPC section 153A (promoting enmity between different groups on grounds of religion, race, place of birth, residence, language, etc., and doing acts prejudicial to maintenance of harmony). City Police Commissioner C H Pratap Reddy said the matter is under investigation and the police will seek information from Clubhouse about the profiles. A senior police officer said that prima facie, those involved in this had no connection with Pakistan and are local residents.

BSY in, Gadkari out of top party panel

Balancing act to soften ex-Karnataka CM ahead of state polls; Yogi surprise omission from parliamentary board

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

Nitin Gadkari

Shivraj Chouhan

IN a major shake-up in its parliamentary board and the Central Election Committee, the BJP on Wednesday dropped stalwarts Nitin Gadkari and Shivraj Singh Chouhan, and inducted BS Yediyurappa, Sarbanand Sonowal, Devendra Fadnavis and Bhupendra Yadav, among others.

While Fadnavis and Bhupendra Yadav were made members of the CEC, Yediyurappa and Sonowal got into the more important parliamentary board.

UP CM Yogi Adityanath failed to make it to the panel. He was expected to be elevated to the party's top decision-making body after the BJP returned to power under his leadership in the state. The parliamentary board is the BJP's apex organisational body, while the CEC is the top election committee which decides candidates for all polls.

Yediyurappa's inclusion was a balancing act, highlighting the party's efforts to send a message to the powerful Lingayat community ahead of Karnataka polls. When he was replaced by Basavaraj Bommai as chief minister in 2021, Yediyurappa did not take the decision well, and had announced his retirement from politics.

The party leadership chose Iqbal Singh Lalpura as the first Sikh representative in the parliamentary board. Lalpura, a BJP leader from Punjab, is a former cop and is at present the chairman of the National Commission for Minorities.

Gadkari is considered close to the RSS leadership. His axing came as a big surprise to BJP watchers. The removal of Gadkari and Chouhan shows their increasing differences with the top party leadership.

The other new parliamentary board members are K Laxman, Sudha Yadav and Satyanarayan Jatiya, three old party faithfuls but political lightweights. Sudha Yadav and Laxman are from the Other Backward Classes while former Union minister Jatia is from the Scheduled Castes. Sonowal is a tribal. Laxman is at present the president of the BJP's OBC Morcha.

The new entrants to the CEC include Rajasthan leader Om Mathur and BJP women wing chief Vanathi Srinivasan. Srinivasan replaces her predecessor Vijaya Rahatkar as the party's Mahila Morcha chief as its ex-officio member. Both Yediyurappa and Jatiya are over 75, well over the age bar announced by Modi for holding important posts in the party. Fadnavis' induction marks his growing stock in Maharashtra. It's seen as a reward for bringing down the Uddhav government.

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

VETERAN BJP leader B S Yediyurappa said the party has given him a big responsibility which he had not expected.

Addressing a press conference after the party announced his elevation to the BJP Parliamentary Board and Central Election Committee, the former Karnataka chief minister said, "When I stepped down as CM, I decided to bring the BJP back to power with full majority. The party recognises the efforts of workers. I never wanted to retire from politics and public life. I will ensure that the party will come back to power with more than 140 seats. We will not allow any other party to come to power in Karnataka," he said. P4

Denied shelter, transwoman seeks nod for mercy killing

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Madikeri

AFTER her endless struggle to find a shelter for herself, a transwoman in Madikeri has written to the district administration seeking permission to undergo euthanasia (mercy killing). Rihana Irfan from Kerala says her repeated pleas to authorities to provide her a house have fallen on deaf dears.

Rihana moved to Madikeri over a decade ago. She had to quit her degree course in a government college midway, as she was harassed by other students. "I was being harassed for being a transwoman and I chose to quit my studies. I joined a transgender community in Mysuru and later underwent surgery. I was shuttling between Mysuru and Bengaluru, but decided to move back to Madikeri," she says.

"After a long search, I managed to find a house on rent, but neighbours pressured the landlord and got me evicted," she rues.

She then received help from a flood victim in Madikeri, who agreed to give her shelter in a house damaged in landslide. "The family was sanctioned a house under flood relief work and they asked me to stay at their old house. However, the house is now in a dilapidated condition," she says.

Rihana applied for a house under a government housing scheme, but to no avail. P5

K'taka prisoners to manage fuel stations soon

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka state prisons department is planning to start fuel stations to be run and managed by prisoners. These stations will be started at selective places which are close to prisons and can be easily monitored by the department staff.

The state has nearly 100 prisons which include central, district, open and taluk-level jails where more than 15,000 inmates are housed.

Speaking to The New Indian Express, Alok Mohan, Director General of Police, Prisons and Correctional Services, said the project is part of the department's reform and rehabilitation initiatives. "We are in talks with the Indian Oil Corporation (IOC) and Bharat Petroleum (BP). When prisoners come out of jails after serving their term, they can find employment at petrol bunks or can even start bunks on their own." he said

Mohan said similar projects have been launched in some states like Andhra Pradesh and Tamil Nadu. "We are working on the feasibility," he said.

When asked about the places that will be selected, he said, "We are identifying suitable plots that are closer to prisons. It will be done wherever possible." Mohan said it's a commerical venture and the inmates will be trained before being assigned jobs.

Sources from the prisons department said that a single petrol bunk can give opportunities to at least 45 prisoners who can work in three shifts with 15 members working in each shift. Prisoners with good conduct will be selected. Plans are also afoot to start carwash and other services next to the fuel stations.

Shift BBMP SWM plant, ask residents

BENGALURU: The residents of Chikkanagamangala, Doddanagamangala and other villages surrounding Electronics City staged a protest on Wednesday morning, stopping the entry of garbage trucks into the municipal solid waste management (SWM) plant of the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP). The residents demanded that the BBMP shut operations and shift the plant, since it is contaminating the groundwater, not only affected the health of citizens, but also of cattle. A few heads of cattle also fell sick and died It may be recollected that last year too, the locals had objected to the BBMP's 500 TPD plant.

BBMP polls: HC adjourns hearing to August 29

Petitioners told to seek clarification from Supreme Court

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Wednesday adjourned to August 29, the hearing of a batch of petitions challenging the delimitation notification of BBMP wards, ahead of a hearing in the Supreme Court on August 26. It gave an oral direction to the petitioners to seek clarification from the apex court.

Justice Hemant Chandangoudar was hearing arguments of the state government, counsels of petitioners and State Election Commission (SEC). Counsels of the petitioners argued that the Supreme Court, in its order dated July 28, 2022, had given liberty to aggrieved parties to approach the court if there is any grievance. In view of this, the high court will have to consider the prayer for an interim stay order sought by the petitioners, who have challenged the delimitation notification dated July 14, 2022.

The SEC's counsel contended that elections have to be held without waiting for rectifying any discrepancies, which can be corrected for the next election, as the Commission is obliged to comply with directions issued by the apex court in the Suresh Mahajan case on May 10, 2022. The aggrieved petitioners can move the apex court for clarification, he argued.

The court orally asked the petitioners to approach the apex court, so that it can pass the order and dispose of the petitions.

In the case of Suresh Mahajan vs State of Madhya Pradesh and others, the apex court held that conduct of elections for a newly elected body is explicitly provided for by the Constitution and therefore, delimitation need not detain elections. The court has also made it clear that the order was applicable to all states and Union Territories.

1 officer for 2 zones to protect Palike property

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

WITH an aim to protect 5,190 properties of the BBMP, spread across eight zones of the municipality, the BBMP has decided that going forward, one assistant revenue officer will be managing two zones to ensure safety of parks, commercial complexes, empty sites, playgrounds and other palike properties.

According to the BBMP, a few private persons have encroached over some properties, while in others, the tenants have not paid rent to the palike. A few other properties have not been renovated or repaired, and hence, to look after them, assistant revenue officers in three zones have been given additional charge. The process is nothing but decentralisation. BBMP Commissioner Tushar Girinath said the powers of the zonal-level Joint Commissioners and Revenue Department will be strengthened by this move.

Textbook Society uploads soft copy of revised portions

SHILPA P @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka Textbooks Society (KTBS) has uploaded on its website the soft copy of the errata or booklet of re-revised portions of revised textbooks approved by the state government.

The booklets will be printed and circulated to all the 70,000 schools by the first week of September, said KTBS Managing Director Madegowda MP.

Three months after the schools re-opened, all the revised textbooks have been printed. While 99 per cent have been distributed, the remaining are likely to reach schools within this week, he said.

The Education Department is printing the revised textbooks at a cost of over Rs 200 crore, while the booklets have cost Rs 12 lakh.

The Textbook Revision Committee, headed by Rohit Chakrathirtha, had revised social science textbooks of Classes 6-10 and Kannada textbooks of Classes 1-10. Among 534 titles, 83 were revised and approved. But after objections by several sections of society over a few chapters, the Education Department took up re-revision of textbooks and made eight corrections and approved them. These eight corrections are now printed in the booklet.

While one booklet each will be issued to each school now, teachers of respective classes will ask students to include the particular line or word missing or corrections approved. While printing the textbooks for the next academic year, the corrections will be included, officers said.

Teachers coming late to face action

BENGALURU: Minister for School Education and Literacy B C Nagesh issued directions to all taluk and district level officers of the education department, warning that stringent disciplinary action will be initiated against teachers coming late to school. He took serious note of students being made to wait on the school campus in Nelligere village of Nagamangala taluk, Mandya district, for classroom doors to be opened as all three teachers were yet to arrive at 10.30am. Nagesh had found this during his surprise visit on August 12. He said that as per reports from officers and his own visits, while most teachers reach school on time, it was observed that teachers are not punctual and students are forced to wait outside classrooms. "Apart from being deprived of education, the safety of children is also affected. Hence, these directions are being issued," Nagesh said. ENS

Semi-urban areas planned around city: Girinath

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

Tushar Girinath, Chief Commissioner, Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagar Palike (BBMP), said on Wednesday that semi-urban areas are being planned in the surrounding areas of the city with an aim to address the growing challenges of administration, transport and solid waste management, among others.

Participating in a webinar titled 'ESG Imaginaries to Make Cities Work - Day 4: Making Cities Of The 21st Century Inclusive', Girinath said that unlike in the past, it is not possible to set up huge industries now.

The commissioner said that solid waste management and managing sewage treatment plants will be decentralised.

He also said that another challenge for the government in the future will be to address people's growing demand for taxation to be reinvested in their areas.

Girinath said that if more people take part in democratic functioning, the assets (government's property) will be owned and managed by people.

"Like we have ward committees now, the democratic participation will work in the same way," he said.

He also mentioned the threshold levels of Bengaluru and said no city can be managed if it grows beyond a certain point.

Carol Upadhya, Head, Urban and Mobility Studies Programme, NIAS, Naresh Narasimhan, Principal Architect, V A Group, among others took part in the discussion and expressed their views on making the city sustainable in the future.

Carol Upadhya mentioned the importance of urban activism in terms of stalling some projects that may clash with the environment and recalled Bengaluru's agitation which resulted in the government dropping the steel bridge project.

Naresh Narasimhan pointed out that most of the time discussions are held only after a project is executed. The webinar was organised by Environment Support Group (ESG) and Habitat Forun (INHAF).

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

18th August : I'm keeping a close watch on that magical planet, Mercury. It's shifting from an imaginative zone to a creative one. That's great news for everyone who likes showing off and telling tall stories, but not so funny for people who cautiously stick to the facts. Which side are you on?

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
What you earn and what you own are two sides of the same picture. This might seem like a rather obvious statement, but it may be deeply pertinent if somebody else has their eyes on your possessions. As a matter of interest, you might also be looking at the price of an emotional tie.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Some decisive aspects to your sign denote that you must have the will to start afresh. You must stand your ground if principles are involved, but may achieve most through charm and diplomacy. You also have to take a critical look at your own motives.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
It's not always easy to get your head around the facts, but you will have to do your sums and get the figures right. You'll also have to talk to other people about your plans. Short journeys are likely, as are unexpected visits, communications and calls.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
You can make a fresh start, clearing the debris out of your emotional life. Not for a very long time have you been advised to cut the bonds that have bound you so tightly. You may, if you wish, ease your way out of a burdensome responsibility or obligation you have come to regret.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Hopefully you have already decided to alter course and opt out of a long-term commitment. However, nature abhors a vacuum, and new ties will step in to fill the gap left by the old. Exciting times lie ahead, and by this time next month you'll be ready to say farewell to old obligations.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
As you may already have found out, you have to face up to some extremely harsh situations. I am sorry if you're under a lot of strain at the moment, but never was the old advice more true: a problem shared is a problem halved. It may even be quartered!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
No amount of cash will compensate for a certain emotional lack. Yet it may well be useful to spend your way out of a tight situation. Don't be afraid of other people thinking that you are flashy. That is their problem. You must get on and do what you must do!

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You know just how incredibly touchy other people can be. However, there's no point in ignoring the fact, for if you tread on their toes they'll only make your life a misery in return! Your best move is to indulge partners' little whims - just for a while.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You may not take kindly to being told to wait your turn, yet that is precisely what you may have to do. A little self-sacrificing activity will do your spirit good, so put others first. Also, how about taking some time off to recharge your batteries? It could be a better idea than you think.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
It's well-known that you like a challenge. However, you probably wonder if you have set yourself an impossible task, and the stars confirm that you probably have. However, if you strive for the very best that you can manage, the results are bound to be worth the effort.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Although new commitments are on the cards, they may well not be binding. There are further developments which are yet to take place, and more information yet to come. Also, busy times are imminent, so stay ahead of the game at work. Also, if social plans are on the boil, let other people in on the secret.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You can feel quite safe about letting matters take their own course. If overseas connections are in the air, develop them now. Also, if you have a choice, then go for adventurous options. You might well discover long-forgotten or hidden talents.

Lokayukta gets teeth back, now needs staff

Cases pile up, but 31 percent shortage in officers; 15-20 officials transferred to Bengaluru

NAMRATA SINDWANI @ Bengaluru

WITH the abolition of the Anti-Corruption Bureau and the Karnataka Lokayukta regaining its power, there is a dire need to address shortage of staff in the Lokayukta across the state. There was a 31 per cent shortage of officers and staff, as on July 31, 2022.

Former Lokayukta Justice N Santosh Hegde stated that the staff crunch was never as apparent as it is now, and with the Lokayukta getting more powers, infrastructure should be strengthened or pendency might increase, with more cases coming in. There has also been a delay in replacing investigating officers transferred out of the Lokayukta.

On the Karnataka High Court's judgment on strengthening the Lokayukta, Justice Hegde demanded that the issue of staff shortage be addressed, and the decision to transfer investigating officers should be done with the Lokayukta's consent.

"Any shortage will create more delays, which will jeopardise the merit of the cases, not only for anti-corruption work but also grievance redressal," he said. The issues cannot be addressed in time if there is a shortage.

He said one of the reasons for returning the Lokayukta its powers was because the current judicial system is not very efficient. The purpose is to resolve matters in a timely manner, and without sufficient staff, there is bound to be backlog and accumulation of cases.

As of July 31, 2022, 434 positions were vacant, of a total of 1,403 sanctioned posts in A, B, C and D categories. The C and D categories include police constables, assistants, clerks, stenographers, sweepers etc and have maximum vacancies.

Addressing the pendency of cases, Lokayukta Justice BS Patil said there was a delay in appointments against retired and transferred employees, and filling up of vacant positions was also slow. The Lokayukta's position was also vacant for almost five months, before he was appointed. All these reasons increased pendency, which is being addressed now, he said.

Justice Patil said that everybody must work to their fullest potential to tackle pending cases, and to address the shortage in Bengaluru, 15-20 officials were transferred from across the state to manage work efficiently and reduce pendency.

House panel can check nursing colleges, but can't issue threats: HC

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court held that the Special House Committee constituted by the Legislative Council, has the power to visit nursing colleges to study whether they are functioning in accordance with the law or not.

"The committee has the power to take evidence or call for papers, records or documents for the purposes of its study. However, in the process of studying the functioning of nursing colleges, the committee members cannot be permitted to harass institutions, and their visit should be strictly limited to study/collect evidence as to whether the colleges are subscribing to the prescribed standards, and does not empower committee members to threaten legal action or issue any directions to nursing colleges," the court said.

Justice MI Arun passed the order while dismissing petitions filed by Hyderabad-Karnataka Nursing Management Association, Karnataka Nursing Institutions Management Association and Karnataka State Association of the Management of Nursing and Allied Health Science Institutions.

The panel was to make suitable recommendations after examining allegations that permission was granted to new nursing colleges and allied health sciences institutions for the academic year 2020-21, despite a lack of infrastructure and violation of directions of the Indian Nursing Council.

Bizman held for killing wife, dumping body in Shiradi

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

A 30-year-old electronics items dealer from Bihar was arrested by Madiwala police for killing his wife and throwing her body in Shiradi Ghat. After committing the murder, Pruthviraj, a resident of Maruthi Layout, filed a police complaint, saying his wife had gone missing. Pruthviraj claimed that his wife Jyothi Kumari refused to have sex with him and had also lied about her age. The couple got married eight months ago, and was courting before marriage.

He took her on a trip to Malpe beach on August 1, with his friend Sameer Kumar, also from Bihar. He hired a car, and his friend was driving. On the way back, he strangled her with her veil and threw her body into the forests, with the help of Sameer.

Kumari is said to have been on her mobile all the time, which irked him. He said he found out that Jyothi's actual age was 38, a few months after the wedding. "He wanted to make the murder look like a natural death. He wanted to kill her by forcibly pushing her at the beach. He tried to mislead police by saying his wife had left the house earlier too, as she wanted to settle in Delhi," an officer said.

Remember Covid lessons, medical students advised

ENS @Bengaluru

NATIONAL Center for Biological Sciences (NCBS) Dean (Research) Dr Raghu Padinjat on Wednesday urged students to remember the lessons learned during Covid-19 in responding to challenges in the future.

Speaking at the annual convocation of the Institute of Allied Health Sciences at St John's Medical College, he said allied health professionals have been an active part in fighting against the pandemic and they had been in short supply. "Like most countries, we were unprepared to face Covid when it broke. It was not an easy task and initially, the NCBS-run diagnostic lab was run by PhD students and post-doctoral fellows on a voluntary basis. We were the single largest testing facility in the state apart from NIMHANS. It was very difficult to ask students to run a lab but also difficult to find enough people qualified to handle a diagnostics lab," said Dr Padinjat.

He said it's not sure when the next health crisis or emergency will be, but it is understood that it is not only important to have nurses and doctors. "We need a whole draft of individuals who are trained to a very high level in different aspects of medical technology and they will play an important role in any health situations that will arise in the future," he said. He further said it was important to have more institutions and similar mechanisms to produce more allied health professionals who are well-trained.

Arun Singh in town to take stock of state BJP, plan for 2023

Likely to discuss cabinet expansion; focus on Old Mysuru region

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ Bengaluru

BJP National General Secretary and Karnataka in-charge Arun Singh is scheduled to visit the state to attend the party office-bearers' meeting and take stock of the party situation on Thursday.

Singh is visiting the state for the first time after the BJP Yuva Morcha outrage against the Central leadership and Bommai government, following the murder of BJPYM leader Praveen Nettaru in Sullia. BJPYM leaders and social media managers at the district level were on a resignation spree. Apart from office-bearers, State BJP President Nalin Kumar Kateel and district presidents have been invited for the meeting, where they are expected to file reports on the party's organisation in every block. Preparations for the 2023 assembly polls will also be discussed, a source informed.

Interestingly, social media chiefs of the party have also been invited for the meeting as they are expected to play a crucial role in the run-up to the polls, and also boost the morale of the rank and file.

Meanwhile, speculation is rife over the expansion of the Bommai cabinet, with MLC C P Yogeshwar, and former ministers Ramesh Jarkiholi and K S Eshwarappa keen to join. Singh may discuss its implications and report it to the party high command, another source said. BJP National General Secretary (Organisation) B L Santhosh is also likely to take part. Singh, who arrived on Wednesday night, will leave for the national capital on Thursday evening.

Plan for Old Mysuru

On the eve of the meeting, Kateel held a meeting of Vokkaliga leaders of Old Mysuru, including ministers R Ashoka, S T Somashekar, LS member D V Sadananda Gowda and former minister C P Yogeshwar, to chalk out a strategy to strengthen the party's base. Singh had toured the region sometime ago, and got feedback. The plan is to focus on 61 seats in nine districts of the region, and the task of winning more seats here will be given to party leaders, including MLAs and MPs.

BJP recognises the efforts of workers. I never wanted to retire from politics. I will ensure that the party will win in 2023

BS Yediyurappa, Former Chief Minister

BSY all set for a bigger national role

THE move has come as a big boost to the BJP in Karnataka as the Lingayat strongman was included in important committees amid speculation that he was sidelined after he stepped down from the CM's post in July last year. He is now likely to play a bigger role not just in Karnataka, but also in other states. Prime Minister Narendra Modi spoke to Yediyurappa over phone and told him that his services were needed not just in Karnataka, but also across south Indian states.

"Party has given me everything. I was travelling across the state as a common party worker and our leaders saw the potential and put their faith in me. I will never stop working for the party," he said.

Taking a veiled dig at senior Congress leader Siddaramaiah, Yediyurappa said the scene in Karnataka will change drastically in the next few days. "Some leaders who are assuming that they will become the next CM will be disappointed. People will give a befitting reply in 2023 assembly and 2024 Lok Sabha polls. Narendra Modi will become the PM again," he said.

Yediyurappa's appointment comes at a time when the Congress leaders seem to be scrambling to bring the party back to power. 'Siddaramotsava' and the party's padayatra in Bengaluru on Independence Day received a good response from people.

Reacting to the development, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said appointing Yediyurappa as a member of the BJP National Parliamentary Board will boost the morale of BJP workers in Karnataka ahead of the 2023 elections.

A senior party leader said that in the last few months, issues surrounding hijab, halal meat, textbook controversy, disallowing Muslim vendors near temples, murders in Dakshina Kannada and the Savarkar poster issue have dented the party's image. "When Yediyurappa was CM, we did not face any such issue. He is indispensible for BJP in Karnataka," he said.

Political analyst Prof Sandeep Shastri told TNIE that this move is a political accommodation for a senior leader who was made to step down as chief minister last year. Going by his age, which is 75+ years, many people even thought he would be included in Margadarshak Mandal. This way, it is indicating that he holds a key position in Karnataka".

For Yediyurappa, it's an elevation as his role has now been expanded to the national level, said Prof Shastri. It is still not known if he will have a say in selecting a CM candidate or MLA candidates in 2023, he added. State Congress Working President Ramalinga Reddy said now that the elections are nearing, the BJP is depending on Yediyurappa for votes, and once the polls are held, he will be removed.

Siddu under fire for Muslim area remark

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

DIWALI is still months away, but some politicians are already playing with the communal fire. While Congress Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah warned that it was unnecessary to put up VD Savarkar's pictures in Muslim-dominated areas that would only provoke and aggravate the existing tension, BJP National General Secretary CT Ravi and former minister KS Eshwarappa mocked at him on Wednesday.

Ravi asked, "If we cannot put up posters of Savarkar, should we go with Jinnah's photographs?"

Eshwarappa said, "I feel that I'm uttering something unpleasant when I take the name of Siddaramaiah after his statement on putting up Savarkar's photos in Muslim areas."

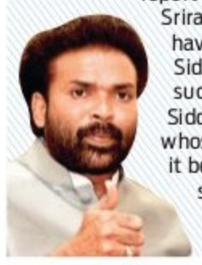
Political observers said angry reactions to Siddaramaiah's statement are an indication that some elements will not back down in communally sensitive Shivamogga, Chikkamagaluru, Udupi and Dakshina Kannada districts.

Internal security experts have warned the government and home authorities that in these four districts, greater vigil needs to be maintained so that fragile peace is not disturbed by incendiary statements, social media posts and other means.

They have said politicians too should be careful while making statements especially after a recent stabbing incident. They have warned that unless there is a drastic course correction, more violence will follow. "The situation has to be watched closely as the elections are just eight months away and considering the fact that the murders of B Masood, Praveen Nettaru and Mohammed Fazil along the coast were just mindless attacks on innocents," they have said.

BJP SEEKS EXPLANATION FROM SRIRAMULU OVER 'SIDDARAMAIAH FOR CM' COMMENT

BALLARI: The state BJP on Wednesday sought an explanation from Social Welfare and Transport Minister B Sriramulu, a day after he embarrassed the party by saying he wants to see Congress leader Siddaramaiah as chief minister again. BJP state president Nalin Kumar Kateel sought a report from Sriramulu for his speech in front of hundreds of people in Ballari on Tuesday.



Sriramulu had said that he and Siddaramaiah criticise each other only politically and have no personal enmity. "One day, we both will be on the same stage. I am sure even Siddaramaiah wants to see me as CM," he said, adding he is not scared of making such statements as he is not anyone's slave. Sriramulu also hinted that he helped Siddaramaiah win from Badami in the 2018 polls. "You can ask Siddaramaiah with whose help he won from Badami. He may not share anything in public, but will reveal it behind closed doors," he added. Sriramulu said he and Siddaramaiah are on the same page in fighting for the cause of backward communities. "I have already said that Siddaramaiah will be the second Devaraj Urs of Karnataka," he said. ENS

Nettaru case: Cong seeks probe by judge

MYSURU: KPCC spokesman M Lakshman on Wednesday said BJP Yuva Morcha leader Praveen Nettaru, who was killed in Dakshina Kannada recently, was earlier BJP state president Nalin Kumar Kateel's car driver, and there is a need for a high-level probe headed by a high court judge. He said, "We suspect there is a link between the two and the entire incident has been given a communal colour. Praveen earlier worked as Kateel's driver and after his murder, Kateel's car was attacked and attempts were made to set it on fire." Earlier, he attacked activist SR Hiremath for expressing his views against congress leaders Siddaramaiah and DK Shivakumar. ENS

Bhadravathi assault not communal: MLA

SHIVAMOGGA: Bhadravathi MLA and Congress leader BK Sangameshwar on Wednesday accused the ruling BJP of communalising the Bhadravathi assault incident in which a youth was injured. The MLA said the accused, Mubarak, and the accused, Sunil, are friends and they clashed over gambling. "Mubarak attacked Sunil and there were minor injuries on Sunil's nose, but not severe. But BJP and Bajrang Dal are making it communal to cause disturbance in Bhadravathi. Their attempts will not work," he said. He alleged that BJP and Bajrang Dal leaders are not letting doctors discharge Sunil from the hospital. Sangameshwar dared former minister KS Eshwarappa to testify before the God that the Bhadravathi incident was indeed communal. He claimed that BJP is indulging in communal politics as the party-ruled government failed to implement development works in the state. ENS

THE police registered two FIRs in connection with recent tension over displaying the portraits of VD Savarkar and Tipu Sultan in Shivamogga on Independence Day. Meanwhile, it has also come to light that another youth was assaulted on the same day.

The Doddapete police registered a case against 8-10 unknown people for placing Savarkar's poster at Ameer Ahmed Circle. In a suo motu complaint, the police said when the men were advised not to put up the flex as it is a communally sensitive area.

In another case, the police booked four unknown people for removing Savarkar's flex. They have also been slapped with charges of promoting enmity between different groups. The police, however, are yet to arrest anyone in connection with these two cases, top police sources said.

Police avert tension, remove flex with Mahatma, Godse photos

TUMAKURU: The police in Madhugiri town, near here, managed to avert a tense situation by removing a poster put up by a group in which both Father of the Nation Mahatma Gandhi and his assassin Nathuram Godse were in the same frame. On the occasion of the 76th Independence Day, the 'Bhagat Singh Youth Association' erected a flexi at Dandina Maramma temple. As it went viral on social media, the police swung into action and removed it on Tuesday. The poster, which was titled 'Amrita Bharatige Kanandada Arati' had the pictures of freedom fighters, including Bhagat Singh, Kittur Rani Chennamma, Chandrashekar Azad, Subhaschandra Bose, among others. But the miscreants had Godse's picture above Mahatma's. The police have taken up a suo motu case and are investigating. ENS

Bring more services under Gram One Centres: CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraja Bommai on Wednesday instructed officials to add more services to Grama One Centres as opportunities could be created by offering micro-banking, LPG booking and others.

"Strengthen the DBT (Direct Benefit Transfer) platform and bring all schemes of all the government departments under these centres," he insisted.

Chairing a review meeting of the E-governance Department, he asked officials to identify services that can be provided at these centres, and said that some specialised services in particular districts too can be included.

He was told that 7,274 such centres are functioning across the state recording 66,520 transactions in January 2022. The number of transactions spiked to 10,36,542 in June 2022.

Bommai told officials that they should provide services through Atal JanaSnehi Centres that are functioning at the hobli level under a few Gram One Centres.

The launch of a new data centre was discussed and officials were told to select a suitable spot. Private companies too want to start the data centre and a policy should be worked out to take services from the centre.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Udupi

AFTER a row over putting up a flex of VD Savarkar by Hindu Mahasabha leaders at Brahmagiri Circle in Udupi on August 15, BJP Backward Classes Morcha National General Secretary Yashpal Suvarna garlanded the cutout on Wednesday, and also planted two saffron flags next to it. The police said there was no permission to place the flags and removed them.

Suvarna said, "Organisations like PFI and SDPI are creating communal tension when we are celebrating the 75 years of Independence. But the present government will nip them in the bud," he said.

Attacking Congress for threatening to hold a protest if Savarkar's cutout is not removed, Suvarna said a bust of Savarkar will be unveiled at the same spot. Likening Congress Legislature Party Siddaramaiah to Jinnah, Suvarna lashed out at the former CM for questioning as to why Savarkar portraits are being erected in 'Muslim areas'. "We will not hesitate to erect Savarkar's portrait in front of Siddararamiah's house," Suvarna said.

BJP Backward Classes Morcha National General Secretary Yashpal Suvarna garlands the flex of VD Savarkar at Brahmagiri Circle in Udupi on Wednesday

Later, district BJP Yuva Morcha workers tried to barge into the Congress office in Brahmagiri. But the police thwarted their attempt.

SDPI clarifies stand

SDPI Udupi district vice-president Shahid Ali said his party is not opposed to the cutout of VD Savarkar, but is against the 'Hindu Rashtra' writing on it. He said SDPI has no issues with Savarkar or any other freedom fighter, but is opposed to the oppressive and regressive captions and slogans that are raised. "We will not engage in a street fight, but will appeal to the government and convince civil society not to get intimidated by these issues. We will not even reply to such intimidating perceptions, but will appeal to civil society to give us a chance to express our views and fears," he said.

Proposal to hike milk price pending

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

AFTER Amul increased the price of milk by Rs 2 on Tuesday, will the Karnataka Milk Federation (KMF), which brings out Nandini products, follow suit? "A proposal to hike the milk prices has been placed before the government and it is pending," said a source.

Dairy experts said, "Whether the price of milk is increased or the procurement goes up, it is the milk producing farmer who is the final beneficiary in the highly competitive milk production market." If the price goes up by ₹2, around 80% goes to the farmer, they added. KMF MD BC Sateesh told TNIE, "We will discuss the issue with Chairman Balachandra Jarkiholi and the board." Jarkiholi was not available for comment.

Dr Shankar PA, a former faculty member of the Dairy Science College, said, "Prices need to be higher, but will the government allow it? While other farm produce gets wasted or suffers from low prices, milk seldom faces that disadvantage. While it is true that milk producing farmers need a better deal, milk prices have so many ramifications. How will the government allow a price rise?"

Farmer union leader Kurubur Shantakumar said, "Many central schemes for the dairy sector have not benefited the real farmer as they remain only on paper."

Experts said prices of dairy inputs, like feed, medicines, transportation and power, have increased. A former KMF employee said, "Karnataka is the only state that gives ₹5 per litre subsidy to encourage farmers."

PS: OPS wins big over EPS as court orders status quo

Court effectively revives abolished posts of coordinator held by O Panneerselvam

R SIVAKUMAR @Chennai

IN a setback to Edappadi K Palaniswami, the Madras High Court on Wednesday ordered maintenance of status quo ante as on June 23, 2022 in the affairs of the AIADMK and said the executive council or general council shall not be convened without the joint consent of the coordinator and joint coordinator.

The order effectively revives the abolished posts of coordinator held by O Panneerselvam and joint coordinator (Palaniswami) while doing away with the interim general secretary post, to which Palaniswami was elected in a July GC 11 meeting.

Justice G Jayachandran passed the orders while disposing of the petitions filed by Panneerselvam and a general council member P Vairamuthu challenging the legality of convening the July 11 meeting.

While coming as a booster to Panneerselvam, the court's direction that a fresh GC meeting shall be conducted if one fifth of the members make a requisition may land him in trouble as a majority of GC members are with Palaniswami.

Further, it may trigger another series of legal battles over supremacy in the party structure between the two leaders.

Referring to convening the GC meeting, Justice Jayachandran said, "There shall be no impediment for the coordinator and the joint coordinator on their own to convene the GC meeting jointly to decide the affairs of the party, including amendment of the party constitution restoring the single leadership." If a proper representation from not less than one fifth of the members of GC is received, they shall not refuse to convene the meeting, and it shall be held within 30 days with 15 days' advance notice. The judge ordered that the two top leaders can approach the court for any direction or seek assistance of a commissioner for conducting the meeting, if required.

Freebies case in SC: YSRC wants in

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Vijayawada

THE ruling YSRC in Andhra Pradesh on Wednesday informed the Supreme Court that it would not be appropriate to regard the initiatives of the government in areas such as education, health, woman empowerment, agriculture, housing, poverty upliftment and support to the old and needy, as freebies.

The party, however, submitted that stringent action should be taken against parties which introduce programmes to reap political dividends.

Rajya Sabha member and the party's general secretary V Vijayasai Reddy filed a petition in the Supreme Court seeking permission to intervene in the PIL filed by lawyer Ashwini Upadhyay, opposing the practice of political parties promising freebies during elections.

The YSRC also submitted that any committee that is constituted should recommend ways to empower the States to discharge their responsibilities more effectively.

"It hardly requires a mention that our country is a welfare State, and the Union and State governments are tasked with taking measures to ensure that the egalitarian goals set by the framers of the Constitution are attained," the party said in the intervention petition.

The party opined that the governments have the fundamental responsibilities to mitigate health and education inequities, rural and urban disparities and so forth.

"To achieve these goals, governments will have to necessarily incur substantial expenditure, which are revenue in nature. The decision on the type and the magnitude of the intervention to effectively address the core issues and alleviate the distress is that of the elected Government," the party said, adding that without due regard to the objectives of some of the government programmes, the petitioner has chosen to refer them as freebies.

In the petition, the party said that any programmes that are devoid of any true purpose and are implemented only for the purpose of luring the voters should necessarily be termed as freebies.

"However, painting the programmes of vast socio-economic importance that are being implemented to alleviate the prevailing distress with the same brush is, to say the least, an insult to the Constitutional mandate," the party felt.

Judge flayed for provocative dress order

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kozhikode

AN order by the Kozhikode Sessions Court mentioning the "provocative" dressing style of the complainant, while hearing the anticipatory bail plea of writer and activist Civic Chandran in a sexual harassment case, has sparked controversy.

In the August 12 order, judge S Krishnakumar said the photographs produced in court revealed the complainant had dressed in a "sexually provocative" manner. So, IPC Section 354A will not prima facie stand against the accused, said the order. Chandran was granted bail.

As per the complaint filed in July, Chandran sexually harassed the young woman writer at a camp held at Nandi Beach in Kozhikode district in February 2020.

Legal experts and women activists came out against the judge's observation. The All India Lawyers Union observed that the dressing style of a survivor was not a justification for provoking a crime.

They make bakery products including bread, bun, biscuits, cakes and cookies under the brand name 'Parivartana' which are sold to the general public.

Prisoners also make laddoos, Mysuru pak, dil pasand and khaara bondi. "We can also have an outlet to put these products on sale next to petrol bunk," the official added.

K'taka midday meal workers seek salaries on time, stage protests

Bengaluru : Midday meal workers across the state boycotted work and staged a protest over non-payment of salaries on time and letting go of around 6,500 workers without any compensation or retirement benefits. Spearheading the protest, CITU president S Varalakshmi said the workers have been working without salaries for almost three months now. A hike of Rs 1,000, which was announced in the budget, was also not implemented. "We are also seeking gratuity of Rs 1 lakh for workers aged above 60 years who were dismissed without compensation," she said. ENS

RIHANA said that her numerous visits and applications to the office of the Deputy Commissioner (DC) in Madikeri have been ignored. She has been staying at a lodge for a month now - paying Rs 400 per day. "On Tuesday, as a last resort, I went to meet the DC with an application to grant me permission to undergo mercy killing. I want to live, but how am I to survive?" she said.

Rihana said there are only four transwomen in the district and they depend on alms for livelihood. "Having a job is my dream. But we are unable to find any. The least the administration can do is grant me a house," she said.

K'taka govt drags feet on MM Hills tiger reserve

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

THE National Tiger Conservation Authority (NTCA) has given its approval to the proposal to declare the Malai Mahadeshwara Wildlife Sanctuary (MM Hills) as a tiger reserve, said Ashwini Kumar Choubey, Minister of State for Environment, Forests and Climate Change.

However, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai is yet to clear the file tabled by the Karnataka Forest Department. The minister announced this while replying to a question by MP Prajwal Revanna in the Lok Sabha on July 25.

In the reply, Choubey said, "Approval of the NTCA has been accorded to the proposal of the Karnataka state government to declare Malai Mahadeshwara Wildlife Sanctuary as a tiger reserve. Of the 524 tigers reported in the state, eight were sighted in the region."

He also said the core area of MM Hills is spread across 670.99 sqkm and the buffer zone is 235.19 sqkm. The total area of the proposed tiger reserve is 906.18 sqkm.Forest officials said while the NTCA and Environment Ministry had approved it, the state government is dragging its feet. "Declaring a tiger reserve is the decision of the Government of India, but the state government is not keen. The CM has not yet cleared it," said a senior forest official.

INDIAN FOOTBALL MESS A RED CARD OFFENCE

Absolute chaos would be an understatement to describe Indian football's mess. Perhaps the appropriate analogy is—like most natural disasters of the modern day, this too is man-made. What's worse, there were enough clues to indicate that the international football federation (FIFA) would ban the All India Football Federation (AIFF) at any time. It was imminent the day the Supreme Court agreed with the Committee of Administrators (CoA) constitution that allowed 50% eminent players—36 in number—to be included in the electoral college along with 36 state units to vote during the elections. FIFA had been against this particular point ever since because it was against their 'statutes', and they had told stakeholders to remove it or reduce it to 25%. What transpired between CoA, the sports ministry, FIFA and other stakeholders is shrouded in mystery, but the way things panned out, there seems to be a communication gap between them.

After the ban, the ministry wanted the provision of 36 players removed and had discussions with the CoA on this. In the end, as expected, FIFA banned AIFF and said the U-17 Women's World Cup cannot be held without recognition. FIFA also said it has to repeal the CoA as it is tantamount to 'third party interference'. On Tuesday, there were indications that AIFF elections would be held with 36 state units.

There was an urgent hearing in the Supreme Court on Wednesday where the ministry sought time until Monday. If viewed from a distance, this was a mess brewing since 2017 when the court tasked former bureaucrat, S Y Quraishi, and former India football captain, Bhaskar Ganguly, as administrator and ombudsman, respectively, to draft the AIFF constitution. The draft constitution was submitted in a sealed envelope in January 2020. The then AIFF chief Praful Patel, whose 12-year term ended in December 2020, continued in office citing a pending case in court. What seems baffling is that the stakeholders are ready to tweak the contentious clause now, something that could have been done earlier. In the end, players, coaches and referees are most affected because, according to FIFA, they are ineligible to play.

BOMMAI'S LEGACY BATTLES IN K'TAKA

The once-peaceful state of Karnataka is lurching from one communal controversy to another, the latest being the Nehru-Savarkar row. Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru's omission from a gallery of freedom fighters in a government advertisement for Independence Day pitchforked Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai into national focus. Yet, he stood his ground in the face of a barrage of Congress protests and blamed Nehru for Partition, fuelling Opposition allegations that he is a chief minister with a majoritarian agenda. After the I-Day spat, and in a sequel to the tit-for-tat killings just weeks ago, clashes are breaking out over idols, ideology and ideologues.

The two controversial figures now being fought over are Tipu Sultan and V D Savarkar—one a Muslim ruler who fought the British, and the other a leader who dreamt of a Hindu nation—both heroes on either side of the ideological divide. The Hindu right is putting up cutouts and posters of Savarkar, with one even finding its way into a Metro station alongside Chandrashekhar Azad and Udham Singh. Opposition parties are denouncing these moves as audacious and provocative, and not surprisingly, fringe elements from both sides are attacking the flexes of Tipu and Savarkar. The districts of Shivamogga and coastal Karnataka are on the boil again.

What is inexplicable is the BJP's attempt to downsize the image of Pandit Nehru especially on the glorious occasion of India's 75th-year celebrations. It is also building a narrative of blaming the first prime minister for the historical event of Partition. Right or wrong, the decision on Partition was taken by the leaders of that time in the best interests of the region and was also defended by Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel. All this and more are expected as Karnataka heads into elections. What is surprising is Bommai's willingness to follow the majoritarian ideology, perhaps to erase any doubt as to where his commitment lies. Adding to his woes, he is already having to battle blazes on the home front, too—like the audio leak of Law Minister J C Madhu Swamy admitting they are "managing the government, not running it".

INDIA NEEDS TO ADDRESS THE BIG FAT 'C' IN THE ROOM

I was 18. I was not supposed to ride a scooter without a helmet. But that fateful morning, I was doing just that. As luck would have it, I was stopped at a traffic signal by a constable who pulled me over and gave me a dressing down. My newly minted license was pulled out, and I was asked for a fine. I pulled out the only ₹100 note in my pocket, and the same went into the pocket of the constable. I was chastised.

When I reached home, it was yet another moment of reckoning. My father was out there to reprimand me next. At the end of all that then, he asked me for the receipt for the fine paid. I said there was none. All hell broke loose, and in addition to being shouted at, my father asked me to take him to the constable. I did. Out there, the constable was asked why he had not made out a receipt for the fine. It was time for the constable to be on the back foot now. Not wanting any more trouble, the constable actually returned the ₹100 with an apology that was extracted for pocketing a fine. We left. I silently gloated at the thought that I had gotten away without paying a fine for my misdeed. Thanks to my father.

The matter did not stop there, though. The next day, an appointment had been made with the then Police Commissioner of the city of Bengaluru, and I was taken to his imposing office. Everything was moving quickly. I was asked to narrate the incident, and a complaint was filed. In addition, my father insisted that I pay a fine for the misdeed. The fine was taken, a 'challan' made out, and I was reprimanded once again. This time in front of the Police Commissioner and his many officers in the room. I saw some of them smiling. I know many of them thought my father was crazy. I thought so as well at that time. My personal gloat of getting away with my misdeed was gone now, though.

As I sit down to write this piece today, we are just about entering the 76th year of our nation being independent. 'Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav' is just about being celebrated, and there is an air of patriotic fervour in all of us.

This is the right time then for me to raise a big issue—a big issue that plagues us and eats into the very gut of the success we have created over all these decades of being independent. This is the big C. Corruption. Corruption as you and I know it, and corruption as you and I experience it.

The data on corruption is rich. A Transparency International study in 2005 indicated that 62% of Indians had paid a bribe to get a job done some time or the other. An assessment of what is corrupt income and what is honest income might as well throw up an alternate mirror economy out there. And that sure is a scary truth to behold.

Corruption is then the biggest issue that faces the nation today. Not very strangely, this is a big internal threat. A threat that has the potential of being our biggest weakness in a world that is progressively getting empowered through the implementation of every rule and ethos that talks about equality, liberty and fraternity.

Corruption then has two facets to it. The facet of the giver and the facet of the taker. Each is equally guilty for sure. In sheer number terms, there are really more givers and fewer takers. Corruption is a citizen-centric retail enterprise of big value. The value is really all the money that is hijacked into personal pockets at the cost of the nation. If the giver were to just cease and desist, this entire industry of corruption would come to a standstill. Wouldn't it?

The data on corruption is rich. A Transparency International study in 2005 indicated that 62% of Indians had paid a bribe to get a job done some time or the other. An assessment of what is corrupt income and what is honest income might as well throw up an alternate mirror economy out there. And that sure is a scary truth to behold

But then the giver is not too sure that he, she, or they want to stop. Every giver is really an insecure entity. An entity that believes he is in the wrong. An entity that believes oiling the system is the easier thing to do, as opposed to getting his own act together to move ahead in life. Corruption is the path of least resistance. In many ways, corruption is the way in which the less efficient in society move ahead at the cost of the more efficient. There is a "corruptor" and a "corrupted". Both are equally guilty. Must the corruptors take note and act? Act with a movement that is mass and national. Do we have it in us to do just that? Or will we, as usual, just let it be? Are you and I the bigger problems out here than the guy who is demanding his cut?

The nation would surely gain in more ways than one. The nation and its many institutions that look after the good of the people would benefit hugely. I do believe it is time, after all these 75 years of independence, to bell the cat of corruption. We need to attack the root of it all. The root of it lies in the dynamics of the giver more than that of the taker. If there is no giver at all, what will the taker take? And from whom?

As we step into our 76th year as an independent nation with independent ambitions to be the best nation among them all, if we do not tackle this big C word, we will not go much further. It's time to rectify the wrongs. It's time to talk the language of firm and affirmative action on corruption. Just stop giving. Get very aggressive on the mechanisms that stop the giving. Police the giver as much as you try to police the taker. The taker is a well-trained and clever professional. The giver is a novice. Stop the corruption economy at that very point of the novice. There is more hope here at this end, rather than at the end of the taker, where all these years of action and attention have just made no difference to the corruption economy.

Just think. When was the last time you gave a bribe to someone? There are lots of answers lurking in that one nasty answer.

THE PARADOX OF OUR SHRINKING FREEDOM

K JAYAKUMAR

Former Kerala chief secretary and ex-VC, Thunchath Ezhuthachan Malayalam University

The 75th anniversary of Independence is indeed a big occasion, and we have ample reasons to celebrate. Apart from the impressive accomplishments in the scientific and technological spheres, we as a nation have been able to manage our myriad socio-economic woes to a reasonable extent though several still remain. The most creditable achievement is that we remain a democracy with sound institutions, a functioning bureaucracy and a judiciary of remarkable integrity and credibility. Instances of when we had to send our gold to be pledged in London shamefully and when American wheat under PL480 was eagerly awaited are things of the past. With an impressive foreign exchange reserve and our young people making a mark in the global technological and corporate landscape, India has every reason to be proudly celebrating 75 years of freedom. The demonstrated resilience of Indian polity to live with contradictions and diversity is the foundational source of national pride.

However, during this festive phase, when the buzzword is freedom, we have to confront a basic question. Is the ordinary citizen of India freer today than their parents were seventy-five years ago? The term 'ordinary citizen' merits a brief elucidation. The Constitution of India has been adopted by and for 'the People of India'. It is an all-encompassing term which is class, age and gender-neutral. But the term is no longer a monolith. We, the people of India, have differentiated into we, the rich people and poor people of India.

Several dividing lines have appeared based on education, caste, power, entitlements, etc. Caste barriers recognised much before Independence as a bane of our society continues to divide and dehumanise the Dalits and the tribals with vehemence, eliciting far less concern from the dominant elite or lawmakers. The term 'ordinary citizen' means for our purpose the poor and the marginalised; the exploited and the vulnerable; those with neither power nor entitlements.

When we gained Independence, we inherited a social and economic mess. From those dismal days of utter backwardness in every sphere, we have marched forward to modernity. But many have not joined this march and are still left behind. The question is about their experience of freedom.

How is freedom experienced? Freedom, as envisioned in the Constitution, is social, economic and political. We could hastily infer from the increased turnout in every election that the participation of citizens in elections is a healthy sign of political freedom. However, it would be tricky to limit political freedom to the process of casting a vote alone. In a democracy, expressing dissent is a privilege and a right. In every law that comes out of Parliament and State legislatures, the eagerness to ensure the freedom and dignity of the citizen should be the authentic hologram. Sadly, our recent legislative history conveys a different story. Laws newly introduced or rewritten making several offences non-bailable (like the amendments to PMLA that the Supreme Court strangely endorsed) and other Acts like the UAPA are drafted to make them harsher and passed with no meaningful legislative scrutiny or discussion. Every new law and amendment seems to be audaciously violating and inversing the well-settled dictum that unless proved guilty, an accused is innocent. As a result, 'the process becomes the punishment'. There are increasing arrests by ED and CBI and State Police for various offences, and after several months in jail, the accused is either acquitted or continues to languish in jail. That trend per se is quite disturbing but what is more lethal is the supreme indifference of the government, which is the guardian of the Constitution. Not only is this indifference not recognised, but flagging this apathy itself is frowned upon. In other words, governments expect compliance, not a contradiction, submission, or suspicion. Does this ambience expand human freedoms?

121 tribals accused in the Bhima Koregaon case were acquitted by the NIA court after five years in jail. Were those arrests a mistake of fact or an error of judgement? Is there any mechanism to ensure such errors do not happen in future or to compensate them for their loss of five productive years and their suffering? Is the power-elite really bothered?

Recently, 121 tribals accused in the Bhima Koregaon case were acquitted by the NIA court after five years in jail. Were those arrests a mistake of fact or an error in judgement? Is there any mechanism to ensure such errors do not happen in future or to compensate them for their loss of five productive years and their suffering? Is the power-elite really bothered? It is a shameful fact that the number of under-trial prisoners in Indian jails far exceeds the number of convicted.

The record of social and political freedoms is no better. Corruption, intolerance and alienation mark our social reality today. The years after Independence have seen the ever-rising tide of all-pervasive corruption. Apart from the immorality of corruption and the sin of 'othering', the denial of services and entitlements to the needy and the powerless is a ghoul that is stalking our public life. Social amity, that bedrock on which a country of immense diversity stands erect, is under siege.

This national occasion of 75 years of freedom could have been a starry moment in history if at least the nation and the powers that be acknowledged the existence of vast pockets of deprived Indian citizens whose freedom has only shrunk in seven decades. It would have been a historic moment if the nation apologised to the disentitled and the deprived and resolved to correct this distortion with a sense of equity and individual dignity. Failure to do so will validate what Charles Dickens wrote more than 150 years ago—"It was the best of times, it was the worst of times … it was the season of darkness, it was the spring of hope, it was the winter of despair."

Bilkis Bano case convicts

In rape cases, people often demand instant justice through encounter killings. Human rights activists then step in and object, saying that the law should take its own course. When the guilty are then sentenced for life, they end up getting out of jail like the 11 rape convicts in the Bilkis Bano case. These convicts were welcomed after the crime they committed. With elections around the corner, the Gujarat government is sending out a wrong message. These convicts need to be back in jail, for that is where they belong.

D Nagarjuna, Hyderabad

No mercy for 11 convicts

It is shocking news that the 11 rapists who gangraped Bilkis Bano and murdered her daughter have been released from life imprisonment by the Gujarat government. They do not deserve an iota of mercy. The Centre must answer why they took such a decision.

Capt Raju Mathai, Kochi

Where we stand

It is heartbreaking to see two diametrically opposite news around the same time—on one hand, on the eve of Independence Day, the Supreme Court cleared 37 judges for the High Court. On the other hand, the release of the 11 convicts in the Bilkis Bano rape case makes me wonder what is happening in the nation.

Rajasthan boy killed

It is so unfortunate that a nine-year-old Dalit boy was beaten to death by his teacher in Rajasthan. The state government has given his family a compensation of ₹5 lakh, and State Congress Chief Govind Singh Dotasra has offered financial assistance of ₹20 lakh. None of this can bring back the boy. More importantly, can this erase the lowly mentality that still exists 75 years after India got her Independence?

NEP & public inputs

Apropos of NEP 2020: Centre seeks public inputs for preparation of new curriculum (August 17). It is admirable that the administration has developed a thorough plan to solicit public feedback for the preparation of a new curriculum under NEP 2020. Even those who may not agree with NEP's contents have the chance to contribute. Hopefully, the government will take this feedback and consider the opinions and needs of the populace.

FIFA suspends AIFF

It is terrible that FIFA has suspended the All India Football Federation (AIFF) for "undue interference by a third party". Since no team from India can now take part in international matches, it also means that India will lose its rights to host the women's U-17 World Cup. However, there may still be hope, since FIFA is having constructive discussions with the sports ministry.

India, Thailand trade to rise further: Jaishankar

Bilateral trade between two countries is approaching $15 billion

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

TRADE between India and Thailand is close to $15 billion and it will rise further, External Affairs Minister Dr S Jaishankar said in Bangkok on Wednesday.

"Bilateral trade between India and Thailand is approaching $15 billion and this will increase. We are also looking at enhancing trade through the India-Myanmar-Thailand trilateral," Jaishankar said while co-chairing the 9th India Thailand Joint Commission Meeting in Bangkok. Thailand's Deputy Prime Minister and Foreign Minister, Don Pramudwinai, also took part in the meeting.

India has been pushing for the early completion and expansion of the India-Myanmar-Thailand trilateral highway (covering 1,400 km) to improve connectivity in the region. There have been talks of extending it to 3,200 km to connect Cambodia, Laos and Vietnam as well.

"The highway is a part of India's Look East Policy that was replaced by Act East Policy in 2014 in to improve relations with ASEAN. The highway (which was conceptualised around 15 years back) would connect India's border town of Moreh to Mae Sot in Thailand via Myanmar. A major part of the highway has been completed," say sources.

"We had productive conversations to further strengthen our all encompassing bilateral relationship. We discussed advancing contacts in political, economic, security, defence, connectivity and health domains," Jaishankar said.

He also called on Thailand's Prime Minister Prayut Chan-o-cha. "Benefitted from his guidance on growing our bilateral relationship as we celebrated the 75th anniversary of diplomatic relations," Jaishankar said.

Meanwhile, two memoranda of understanding (MoU) were signed between India and Thailand. "The first one was on health and medical research cooperation between the ministry of public health of Thailand and the family welfare department of India," according to the foreign ministry of Thailand.

The second MoU was a collaboration on broadcasting between Prasar Bharati, India, and the Thai Public Broadcasting Service.

Meanwhile, in an interaction with the diaspora, Jaishankar defended India's decision to buy discounted Russian oil amid the Ukraine conflict.

"Oil prices are unreasonably high and so are the gas prices. A lot of traditional supplies to Asia are diverting to Europe because Europe is buying less oil from Russia," he said. He added that it was his obligation and moral duty to ensure that the people in India get the best deal.

CISF

3 dismissed over Doval security lapse

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

Three Central Industrial Security Force (CISF) commandos have been dismissed from service and two senior officers have been transferred over security breach at the residence of National Security Advisor (NSA) Ajit Doval six months ago, according to officials.

CISF's Special Security Group (SSG) provides 'Z-plus' security cover to Doval.

The security breach took place at around 7:30am on February 16 when a man from Bengaluru tried to drive his car into the residence of Doval. The three commandos, who have been dismissed, were present at the residence. The man was intercepted outside the residence and was handed over to Delhi Police.

In 2006, CISF on the basis of recommendations of Intelligence Bureau, raised a special unit, called SSG, to provide security to people nominated by the home ministry. It was formed on November 17, 2006.

The action came after a Court of Inquiry established by CISF into the incident held the five officers guilty on various counts. The three commandos, who have been dismissed, were present at the NSA's residence that day as part of the security detail.

Replacement officers for the two have recently been posted at the SSG, they said.

Jharkhand: Soren gets SC relief in laundering case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

IN a big relief to Jharkhand Chief Minister Hemant Soren, the Supreme Court on Wednesday stayed further proceedings pending before the Jharkhand High Court in the PILs seeking ED probe against the CM for alleged money laundering through several shell companies.

A bench of justices UU Lalit, Ravindra Bhat and Sudhanshu Dhulia also reserved orders on the petition(s) moved by the State and the Jharkhand Mukti Morcha leader challenging the high court's order dated June 3 of admitting the PILs preferred by Shiv Shankar Sharma wherein it was also alleged that Soren had given a mining lease to himself.

"Heard counsels for the parties. Order reserved. Since the court is seized of the matter, the high court shall not proceed with the matter," the bench said in its order.

The court also asked the parties to place on record copies of the petition along with the annexure and pleadings exchanged

While referring to the top court's order dated May 23, wherein the high court was directed to consider the maintainability of the PILs, senior advocate Kapil Sibal for the state submitted that the high court not only decided maintainability but also considered the merits of the case. Terming the issue as "well planned", Sibal also questioned the ED's conduct of filing documents in a sealed cover in the absence of incriminating evidence against JMM leader.

Heard counsels for the parties. Order reserved. Since the court is seized of the matter, the high court shall not proceed with the matter

Supreme Court bench

For Soren, senior advocate Mukul Rohatgi submitted that the PIL levelling allegations of the CM granting mining lease to himself was only filed due to the enmity between the families for two decades..

Additional Solicitor General SV Raju for the ED contended that a petition raising allegations of corruption cannot be throw on technical grounds.

While admitting the PILs seeking probe against Soren, the division bench of Justice R Ranjan and Justice Sujit Narayan Prasad had observed, "This court after having answered the issue, as framed by the court and on the basis of discussions made hereinabove, is summing up its view and is on the considered opinion that the writ petitions cannot be thrown away on the ground of maintainability."

On May 23, the vacation bench of Justices DY Chandrachud and Bela M Trivedi in the petitions preferred by the state and Soren against high court's decision of accepting the documents produced by the ED in the sealed cover overruling the state's objections had asked the high court to decide on the maintainability of the PILs.

BJP national vice president and former Jharkhand chief minister Raghubar Das had in February this year claimed Soren abused his position and granted himself the favour of a mining lease, an issue involving both the conflict of interest and corruption.

He also alleged violations of provisions of the Representation of People Act.

Taking cognisance of the controversy, the Election Commission of India (ECI) sent a notice to Soren in May seeking his version on the mining lease issued in his favour when he holds the Mining and Environment portfolios.

The plea before the High Court had sought a probe into alleged irregularities in the grant of mining lease as also the transactions of some shell companies allegedly linked to Soren's family and aides.

Devas Multimedia seizes US assets worth ₹1.1 crore of ISRO arm Antrix Corp

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

DEVAS Multimedia has seized liquid assets worth ₹1.1 crore of Antrix Corporation held in the US after an American court allowed the former to do so to enforce a $1.2 billion arbitration award.

The Eastern District Court of Virginia of US has granted Devas Multimedia to seize $145,000 of liquid assets of Antrix Corporation, a government of India-owned firm.

Devas Multimedia had won an arbitration award of $1.2 billion after the Indian government terminated its satellite deal with Antrix Corporation, the commercial arm of the Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO), in 2011.

Agency reports have quoted a lawyer representing Antrix Multimedia, confirming the seizure. Matthew D McGrill, who represented Devas in the US court, has been quoted by agencies as saying: "The seizure of Antrix assets sends a clear message: Despite the Modi government's thuggish tactics, bogus fraud claims, sham court proceedings, abuse of Interpol process and transnational repression against Mr. Viswanathan, the shareholders of Devas will not waver in their pursuit to collect what they are rightfully owed from the Indian government."

TNIE could not reach out to Gibson, who is a partner in the law firm Gibson Dunn.

Devas had entered into an agreement with Antrix to provide high speed data services. However, in 2011 Antrix cancelled the deal after the central government decided against allowing slots in S-Band for commercial activities. Devas moved the International Chamber of Commerce Arbitral Tribunal in the Netherlands.

Later Antrix moved the National Company Law Tribunal petitioning for winding up of Devas after it alleged fraudulent activities by shareholders of the latter. NCLT gave its order in Antrix's favour, that was upheld by both NCLAT and the Supreme Court.

Guj govt relied on 1992 sentence remission policy to release convicts

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Gujarat government appears to have relied on a 1992 sentence remission policy, which did not distinctly categorise convicts eligible or not eligible for early release from prison, to set free the 11 people serving time for the gang-rape of Bilkis Bano and murder of some members of her family in the wake of the 2002 riots.

The state government's decision followed a May 2022 Supreme Court judgment, which said that "once the crime was committed in the State of Gujarat, after the trial has been concluded and judgment of conviction came to be passed, all further proceedings have to be considered including remission or premature release, as the case may be, in terms of the policy which is applicable in the State of Gujarat where the crime was committed".

The SC judgment, delivered by Justice Ajay Rastogi, stemmed from a petition for early release by the convict, Radheshyam Bhagwandas Shah, who sought "direction in the nature of Mandamus to the State of Gujarat to consider his application for premature release under the policy dated 9th July 1992 which was existing at the time of his conviction". Shah stated in his application that he had undergone 15 years and four months of custody.

The apex court observed that the Mumbai sessions court on Jan. 21, 2008, "held the petitioner guilty and convicted him for the afore-stated offences and sentenced him to undergo rigorous imprisonment for life". Another co-accused, Ramesh Rupabhai, who was also convicted for the same crime, had moved the Bombay High Court seeking premature release but his application was dismissed on Aug. 5, 2013. Rupabhai's application for premature release was "left to be examined as per the policy applicable in the State of Gujarat".

A Godhra-based lawyer, Parimal Pathak, who represented some convicts, said the Gujarat government's 1992 policy, which did not clearly delineate the categories of convicts eligible for premature release or remission of their sentences, was relied upon by the state government. In January 2014, the Gujarat government drew up a resolution, which contained a fresh set of guidelines for "considering cases of the state remission and the premature release of prisoners".

We are scared, may have to relocate, says Bilkis Bano's husband

Ahmedabad: Ever since 11 convicts were released from the Godhra sub-jail on Aug. 15 under the Gujarat government's special remission policy, Bilkis Bano's family has been spending sleepless nights. "No one other than Bilkis can imagine what happened in 2002. However, what has happened now is scary for me, my family and of course Bilkis," Yakub Rasool, her husband, told this newspaper on the phone on Wednesday. "We fought for over 10 years, but we were not even told that the convicts would be released. We still don't know how and why they were released," he said. "We have five children. We probably have to relocate, find a new job and plan for the next fight," said Yakub.

SC says need to define freebies, issue getting 'increasingly complicated'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

WHILE indicating that freebies come at the cost of public exchequer, the Supreme Court on Wednesday expressed its concern on public money being spent in the right way.

A bench of Chief Justice of India, NV Ramana, and Justices JK Maheshwari and Hima Kohli said although political parties cannot be prevented from making promises, the question is what constituted "right promises".

Ramana also stressed on the fact that promises alone do not form the basis of parties being elected. He added that even after making promises some parties were not elected. The bench emphasised on the need to define "freebies" and said the issue has become "increasingly complicated."

"We cannot prevent political parties from making promises. The question is what constitutes right promises? Can healthcare, access to drinking water, and access to consumer electronics be treated as freebies?," the bench remarked.

Adjourning the petition by BJP leader Ashwini Upadhyay seeking to prevent political parties from promising or distributing freebies before elections for Aug. 23, the bench asked the parties to file their suggestions until Saturday.

Opposing the reliefs sought in the plea, the Aam Aadmi Party, Congress, and Dravida Munnetra Kazhagam had also sought to intervene in the matter. Senior Advocate P Wilson, appearing for DMK, submitted that the plea would convert India from a "socialist to a capitalist country."

Appearing for the central government, Solicitor General Tushar Mehta said considering "social welfare" to mean distributing everything for free was "immature".

Tech glitches: CUET-UG 2022 4th phase exam cancelled in 13 centres

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

THE fourth phase of the Central University Entrance Test (CUET)-UG 2022 began on Wednesday. However, exams in 13 centres, mostly in Delhi, were cancelled due to "unavoidable" technical reasons.

This was despite the National Testing Agency (NTA) and the University Grants Commission (UGC) earlier claiming that a several measures had been taken after the second phase of the examinations in the first week of August resulted in cancellations across India.

According to UGC Chairman M Jagadesh Kumar, "due to some unavoidable technical reasons, examination scheduled for today was cancelled in 13 centres in shifts one and two." A total of 8,693 candidates out of 1,45,885 were affected, he said in a statement.

Those candidates whose examination was cancelled would be informed regarding their new date on Thursday. "It is proposed to hold these exams on Aug. 25," he added.

The most affected was Delhi, where exams were cancelled in eight places in both shifts, except at Hari Vihar in Dwarka, where only the morning shift was cancelled.

Exams were also cancelled at two centres in Uttar Pradesh — Banaras Hindu University and A-JNM College of IT Institute, JNM College, Varanasi. Similarly, in Bihar's Gaya and Patna, exams were cancelled in both shifts. In Faridabad's centre in Manav Rachna University, exams were also cancelled in the first shift.

Kumar, however, said the fourth phase of the examinations started well in 455 centres in 245 cities. A total of 3.72 lakh candidates are appearing in the fourth phase, being held on Aug. 17, 18 and 20.

The fifth phase is slated for Aug. 21, 22, and 23, and an estimated 2.01 lakh students are scheduled to take it.

The last and the sixth phase of the examination is scheduled for Aug. 24, 25, 26 and 30 and about 2.86 lakh students would be appearing for it. These exams have been scheduled for students whose exams were cancelled during the second phase on Aug. 4, 5 and 6.

JAMMU & KASHMIR

Rift widens as Azad refuses new post as Congress campaign committee chief

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

THE Congress is baffled over Ghulam Nabi Azad's refusal to accept the position of the chairman of the 11-member campaign committee for Jammu and Kashmir, which was offered to him on Tuesday. He was also nominated to the political affairs committee, to be headed by Tariq Hameed Karra, for the union territories.

According to party functionaries, Karra's appointment as the chairman of the panel upset Azad, especially since he was expecting that the party will nominate him as the chief ministerial candidate in the UT. A party leader said perhaps Azad was not consulted on the appointments or informed about it in advance. He added that Karra is junior to him and only a permanent invitee in the Congress Working Committee while Azad is a full-member.

However, a CWC member said Azad was kept in the loop and most names approved by Congress chief Sonia Gandhi were recommended by him.

"Azad has been attending the party meetings held on Jammu and Kashmir. He has even recommended the names for appointments in the panels. Vikar Rasool Wani has been made president. Wani was on the top of the list of four names given to Sonia Gandhi. Maybe Azad wanted full-fledged control," said the leader.

HC yet to accept closing report in case by Anti-Corruption Bureau

BJP to reopen irrigation scam to corner Ajit Pawar

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

THE BJP has decided to reopen the controversial irrigation scam in which the leader of the Opposition and NCP's Ajit Pawar got the clean chit in 2019. At that time, Devendra Fadnavis was the CM in the 80-hour government that saw Pawar as his deputy.

Newly appointed Maharashtra BJP chief Chandrashekar Bawankule has said he will demand reopening of the case.

The then Anti-Corruption Bureau head Parambir Singh had submitted a closing report in the High Court with an 'all clear' to Ajit Pawar on the first day of the BJP-NCP's short-lived government in 2019. The court is yet to accept the Parambir report.

When Ajit Pawar was the water resources minister in the Congress-NCP regime, there were allegations of irregularities against him, though his name did not appear in FIRs.

Another former Anti-Corruption Bureau chief Sanjay Barve had told the High Court in November 2018 that Ajit Pawar had intervened in the process of contracts for irrigation projects. Despite spending huge amounts on the scheme, the area under land irrigation remained the same.

BJP Leader Mohit Kamboj has tweeted that "a big NCP leader will go to jail very soon." Kamboj had earlier "predicted" that Congress' Anil Deshmukh, NCP's Nawab Malik, Shiv Sena's Sanjay Raut and former Mumbai police commissioner would be arrested by central agencies. His "predictions" came true.

NCP's Dhananjay Munde said the move was a part of BJP's blackmail strategy to malign those who did not bow to pressure. "Nothing will happen. We are open to any sort of inquiry," said Munde, who is Ajit Pawar's close aide.

Another NCP leader Vidya Chavan defended Pawar. She said the BJP had lost ground in Maharashtra.

"That's why they want to threaten our leaders by raking up old issues. As long as people are with us, we are not afraid of anyone. We have seen how BJP has blatantly misused Central agencies to blackmail and threaten people," she said.

Social activist Anjali Damania said the BJP was not sure how long the Shiv Sena camp led by CM Eknath Shinde would stay with it. "Therefore they are working on plan B to target and poach NCP MLAs," she said. "If the Shinde camp leaves BJP midway, the party will use MLAs from Congress and NCP," she said.

Bihar: Row over 'tainted' law minister in Nitish team

RAMASHANKAR @Patna

BARELY 24 hours after CM Nitish Kumar expanded his cabinet, a controversy erupted on Wednesday over induction of RJD MLC Kartikeya Kumar as law minister following an arrest warrant against him in a kidnapping case.

Kartikeya, a first-time lawmaker, is known for his ties with jailed former MLA Anant Singh who continues to run his writ in the Barh-Mokama Tal area in Patna district. Anant Singh recently lost his Assembly membership after a court awarded him 10 years in jail in a case under the Arms Act. The Danapur court had issued an arrest warrant against Kartikeya on July 14 involving a 2014 kidnapping case. On August 16, when he was supposed to appear before the court, he took oath as a minister and was given the law portfolio.

The case relates to conspiracy to kidnap a builder, Rajiv Ranjan, from an area falling under the jurisdiction of Bihta police station in Patna district. Besides Kartikeya, 17 others have been named as accused in the case lodged with Bihta police station in 2014.

CM Nitish Kumar feigned ignorance about the arrest warrant pending against Kartikeya. "I have no idea about it," he told the media.

On Tuesday, 31 lawmakers, including 16 from RJD, 11 from JD-U, two from Congress, one from HAM and an independent legislator were sworn in as ministers.

Karitkeya's legal counsels have told the media that they had no information about any arrest warrant issued against their client. "The court issued a 'no coercive action' order on August 12 applicable until Sept 1," said one of his lawyers.

The advocates said the court's 'no coercive action' directive had gone to the Mokama police station.

Kartikeya became an MLC from Patna after defeating his JD-U rival this year. Anant and another don-turned-MLA Ritlal Rai, lodged in the Beur central jail, had congratulated Kartikeya on his victory in the council polls.

The BJP has intensified its attacks against the new government, alleging that leaders with criminal antecedents have become ministers.

Meanwhile, Kartikeya in an interview claimed that false allegations had been leveled against him in the kidnapping case. He said that he had given details of the case in his election affidavits. "I consider myself innocent. There is a difference between making an allegation and proving it," the MLC said.

"There is no criminal case against me and the BJP's allegation has no basis," said Kartikeya.

Most new ministers in Grand Alliance govt have criminal cases: Report

New Delhi: A joint report of the Association of Democratic Reforms and Bihar Election Watch has pointed out that most ministers in the Nitish Kumar team have criminal cases registered against them. It said the CM and his junior Tejashwi Yadav are among 23 ministers out of 33 ministers, who have declared criminal cases against themselves in their poll-affidavits. This is around 70% of the newly sworn-in ministers in Bihar, the report said. The report made an elaborate analysis of poll affidavits of these ministers. Among 23 ministers who have declared criminal cases against themselves, 17 have declared serious criminal cases pending against themselves in the state.

Dhami undoes Rawat's dharna with a dialogue

Uttarakhand's politics is also peculiar like the weather here. Former Chief Minister Harish Rawat, who planned to sit on a dharna outside Chief Minister Pushkar Singh Dhami's residence, reverted from his plan after the two sat for talks. Alleging a conspiracy to sideline the local leadership in the garb of delimitation in forthcoming Haridwar panchayat polls, the Rawat appealed to Dhami to rectify the error. It may be recalled that despite his poll loss, his daughter Anupma Rawat managed to secure a seat in the Vidhan Sabha. Coming out after his meeting with Dhami, Rawat surmised that there may be order soon but also warned of agitation if it was otherwise.

Scientist Amit Pandey (in pic) is set to make Uttarakhand proud after becoming a part of NASA's New Moon Program "Artemis". On NASA's effort to set foot on the moon again, Pandey said, "In the 60s, America launched the Apollo program, in which astronaut Neil Armstrong stepped on the moon. In the same way, NASA is launching the Moon Program again, with plans to house astronauts on the moon and to execute long-term projects." His uncle Shekhar Tripathi, a superintending engineer in UPCL, said his nephew also gives free tuition to children from across the globe. No doubt, Devbhoomi's proud son will leave a mark on the moon.

Crippling de-addiction centres of the state

The state police have revealed that close to 15,000 cases of drug addiction in the capital Dehradun. Based on data and studies, the police have assumed that one in 110 people is addicted to drugs. The chairman of Indian Institute of Psychometric Counselling, Dr Mukul Sharma has on the other hand revealed some shocking facts on the drug addiction rehabilitation institutions in the state. "There are 138 rehabilitation centres in the capital, of which over 80 per cent were booked under different acts by the police for various discrepancies." The state stares at the crippling de-addiction centres even as the addiction threat looms large.

J&K: Inclusion of non-local vote sparks debate

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

AHEAD of first-ever Assembly polls in Jammu and Kashmir Union Territory, Chief Electoral Officer (CEO) for Jammu and Kashmir Hirdesh Kumar on Wednesday said non-locals can now vote in the upcoming assembly elections in the UT. With this, about 25 lakh new voters are likely to be added to the voter list.

The move has been slammed by Kashmir-based parties. However, BJP welcomed it saying regional parties are feeling the heat of real democracy.

"After abrogation of Article 370, many people who were not enlisted as voters in the erstwhile J&K state are now eligible to vote and can be added to the voter list. As per the provisions of representation of the Peoples Act, a person living ordinarily in the UT can avail the opportunity to get enlisted as a voter in J&K," Kumar said.

He said an employee, a student, a labourer, a businessman or anyone from outside who is living ordinarily in J&K, can enlist his or her name in the voter list.

MP: Official attacked after audio of skirmish with BJP MLA surfaces

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bhopal

A senior state government official has been seriously injured in an attack by armed men in Rewa district of Madhya Pradesh. The attack which happened on Tuesday evening was allegedly carried out by 18-20 armed men, including a local BJP leader believed to be close to the ruling party MLA KP Tripathi.

The attack on 58-year-old Sirmour janpad panchayat chief executive officer (CEO) S K Mishra happened just a few hours after the MLA had a heated exchange of words over phone with him. The audio-clip of the purported conversation had gone viral just an hour before the alleged attack on Mishra near the Purwa Waterfalls.

"I was returning from an official work in the car driven by my driver, when 18-20 men armed with lathis got the car stopped by parking their vehicles in front of it. As the car's doors were locked from inside, they first damaged the windows of the car and then pulled me out. Subsequently, they attacked me indiscriminately and then left the spot, leaving me behind. I've identified three of them, including BJP Bankuiyan Mandal president Manish Shukla and two others, Vinay Shukla and Vivek Gautam," Mishra alleged at the hospital later in the evening.

The senior government official accused the BJP MLA from Semariya seat of Rewa district KP Tripathi of being behind the attack. "The attack happened just a few hours after he had threatened to teach me a lesson for not getting his work done. There is a threat to my life from him and his men," he alleged further.

"The MLA has been pressuring me for a year to get works done as per his wishes, including reinstating a transferred panchayat secretary Sandeep Dwivedi. I had clearly told him over phone on Tuesday to get me transferred, but he (MLA) told me that he wouldn't waste his energy in getting me transferred, but would do something more. Just a few hours after the telephonic conversation, the attack happened on me," Mishra alleged.

While the BJP MLA couldn't be contacted over phone in the matter, his personal assistant Dharmendra Dwivedi said the attack shouldn't be linked to the telephonic conversation between the legislator and the Janpad Panchayat CEO, as such conversations are part of routine processes. "It's some other group which has tried to take advantage of the telephonic conversation and attacked the Janpad Panchayat CEO," Dwivedi said.

To boycott work till attackers held: Panchayat head

Meanwhile, the newly-elected Sirmour Janpad Panchayat head Raveena Saket (who was reportedly a BJP backed candidate) has said that neither the Sirmour Janpad Panchayat nor any of the village panchayats coming under its jurisdiction will work till those accused of attacking the CEO aren't nabbed by the police."

7TH PAY COMMISSION

C'garh employees irked by 'mere' 6% pay hike

EJAZ KAISER @Raipur

CHHATTISGARH government employees have expressed resentment over the 6 percent hike in the dearness allowance (DA) announced by the state government and cited it as "insufficient" not even close to their expectation, claiming that it should have been raised at least by 12%.

The Congress-ruled government stated that with the hike in the DA, the employees will now be getting 28%. The employees federation said that if their demand is not met by August 22, they will be left with no option except to proceed on an indefinite strike.

According to the orders issued by the state finance department the employees received 22 percent DA under the 7th Pay Commission and 174% under the 6th Pay Commission since May 2022. After the revision, 6 percent and 15% hikes have been effected under the 7th and 6th Pay Commissions respectively, the statement added.

The staff will now get 28 percent and 189% DA from August 1. The hike that will benefit around 3.8 lakh government employees is likely to put an additional annual burden of ₹2,160 crore on the state exchequer. The federation of state government officers and employees that staged a five-day agitation in July has sought hike in the DA and house rent allowance (HRA) among other demands.

"We demanded 34% DA and HRA as per the 7th Pay Commission scale but both these have not been met. Some of the suggestions were also ignored", said Kamal Verma, convener of the employees federation.

The federation also alleged that the senior officials in the secretariat have also misguided the state government regarding their "genuine" demands.

The Chhattisgarh government had a day ago said it has increased the dearness allowance (DA) for its employees, effective from August 1, 2022, according to an official notification.

Chocolates worth ₹17 lakh stolen from warehouse in Lucknow

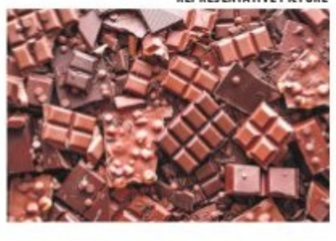
NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

CRAVING for chocolate and "kuchh meetha ho jaaye" reached criminal heights on Monday, when thieves decamped with 150 cartons of Cadbury chocolate bars worth ₹17 lakh from a warehouse of the company in the Chinhat area of Lucknow.

As per police sources, the incident was reported from Devraji Vihar of Chinhat area of Lucknow in Uttar Pradesh. In order to hide their identity, the thieves also took away the CCTVs and DVR installed in the warehouse.

Sources said the godown was earlier the residence of Cadbury distributor Rajendra Singh Sidhu who recently shifted to an apartment in the posh Gomti Nagar area. Sidhu said he had filed an FIR at the Chinhat police station, and urged local residents to come forward if they had any inputs to provide on the theft.

REPRESENTATIVE PICTURE



In the FIR, Sidhu said he was using the old Chinhat house as a godown for storing the chocolates and got a call from a neighbour on Tuesday informing him that the door was broken.

On arriving at the warehouse, the distributor found that the entire godown was empty and the thieves had made way with the security cameras as well. He told the police that the one of the neighbours heard a pick-up truck at night and thought Sidhu had come to take away some stock. He suggested that the thieves might have used the truck to ferry the stolen chocolates.

During police investigation, Siddhu said that at least 150 cartons having chocolates worth ₹17 lakh were stolen along with some boxes of biscuits. He said that the stock had arrived a couple of days ago and was meant to be distributed to the retailers across the city. Moreover, the thieves also stole woollen clothes, cameras, DVRs and handycams from the warehouse.

According to Additional Deputy Commissioner of police, east zone, Syed Abbas Ali, as the police authorities have already initiated the probe into the chocolate theft, the footage of CCTV cameras installed in other parts of the localities is also being scanned for clues.

THREE J'KHAND CONG MLAS GET INTERIM BAIL IN CASH SEIZURE CASE

MUKESH RANJAN @Ranchi

THE Calcutta High Court on Wednesday granted interim bail to all five persons, including three suspended Congress MLAs – Irfan Ansari, Naman Bixal Kongari and Rajesh Kachhap – arrested by West Bengal Police on July 30 in connection with cash seizure case. While granting bail, the double bench of Calcutta High Court also directed them not to leave Kolkata for the next three months and asked them to ensure that they appear before the investigative officer of the case every week.

The Court has also directed them to furnish bail bond of ₹1lakh each.

Meanwhile, the court ordered to transfer the case to the MP-MLA court for conducting the trial.

The three MLAs, were arrested by West Bengal Police on July 30 along with ₹49 lakh cash, allegedly for their involvement in hatching conspiracy to topple Hemant Soren Government in Jharkhand.

A day after the three Congress MLAs were nabbed by the police with cash in their vehicle, Bormo MLA Kumar Jaimangal lodged an FIR against them for making attempts to topple Hemant Soren Government in Jharkhand which came into power with thumping majority. Jaimangal in his FIR also alleged that he was also offered gratification along with a definite ministerial berth to topple the present alliance government of JMM, Congress and RJD.

Jaimangal further alleged that the MLAs were offered ₹10 crore each for switching sides.

Party drug worth ₹2,000 crore seized in Gujarat

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @Ahmedabad

DRY drugs and liquid mephedrone, also known as MD or Meow Meow, worth ₹2,151 crore was seized over the last two days in different raids carried out by Gujarat Anti-Terrorist Squad and Mumbai's Anti Narcotic Cell near Vadodra and Ankleshwar, respectively.

In one of the biggest synthetic drug hauls in the state, the ATS raid at a warehouse called Nectar Chem, located near Moksi village in Savli GIDC, Vadodara, resulted in confiscation of about 225 kg of dry mephedrone worth more than ₹1,125 crore, DSP K K Patel said. The drug was being made at a factory located at Saykha GIDC in Dahej of Bharuch district and stored at the warehouse in Savli for transportation and distribution to drug traffickers. "Searches were also conducted at the factory premises in Saykha GIDC,"

Patel said, adding that they received information that Mahesh Dhoraji and Dinesh Jamnagar were manufacturing and selling the drug illegally in a factory between Baroda and Anand. Meanwhile, the Mumbai Police seized 513 kg mephedrone worth ₹1,026 crore after a raid at a manufacturing unit in Gujarat's Ankleshwar.

The owner of the mephedrone manufacturing unit, Giriraj Dixit, is a postgraduate in chemistry, and leads a lavish lifestyle. He owns a huge bungalow in Bharuch. He allegedly has connections with the drug mafia in Mumbai. Police said he and another co-accused had perfected the formula for producing mephedrone through experiments.

UK INFLATION HITS 10.1% AS FOOD PRICES ROCKET

Soaring gas prices can push Britain into a recession expected to last through 2023

LONDON

BRITAIN'S inflation rate rose to a new 40-year high of 10.1% in July, a faster pace than in the US and Europe as climbing food prices in the United Kingdom tightened a cost-of-living squeeze fueled by the soaring cost of energy.

The double-digit surge in consumer prices over a year earlier was higher than analysts' central forecast of 9.8% and a jump from the annual rate of 9.4% in June, the Office for National Statistics said on Wednesday. The increase was largely due to rising prices for food and staples, including toilet paper and toothbrushes, it said.

Most economists believe worse is to come. The Bank of England says soaring natural gas prices are likely to drive consumer price inflation to 13.3% in October. It says that will push Britain into a recession that is expected to last through 2023.

Those pressures persuaded the bank to boost its key interest rate by half a percentage point this month, the biggest of six consecutive increases since December. The rate now stands at 1.75%, the highest since the depths of the global financial crisis in late 2008.

Shoppers buying food in London | AP

"We expect another 50bp (basis points) rate hike in September," said James Smith, developed markets economist and ING Economics. "We wouldn't rule out another hike in November."

The gas woes are threatening a recession in the 19 countries sharing the euro currency, where inflation hit a record 8.9% in July. The United States has already seen two quarters of economic contraction, intensifying fears of a recession. US inflation eased somewhat to 8.5% in July but is still near a four-decade high.

"I understand that times are tough, and people are worried about increases in prices that countries around the world are facing," UK Treasury chief Nadhim Zahawi said.

"Although there are no easy solutions, we are helping where we can," he said, including with a $483 payment to households facing rocketing energy bills.

Britain's Conservative government is under pressure to do even more to help people cope with the cost-of-living crisis. The average UK household fuel bill has risen more than 50% this year, and another increase is due in October, when the average bill is forecast to hit $4,300 a year. AP

Imam among many feared dead in mosque bomb blast

KABUL

MANY people were feared killed in a blast during evening prayers at a mosque in Khair Khana area of Afghanistan's capital Kabul on Wednesday.

Khalid Zadran, a spokesperson for the Kabul Security Department said the Islamic Emirate's forces were combing the area. Reuters quoted him as saying, "A blast happened inside a mosque...the are casualties, but the number is not clear yet."

The explosion was so strong that it shattered windows of houses in the neighbourhood, witnesses said.

Shortly thereafter, Kabul's Emergency Hospital took to Twitter to say that they have received 27 people from the area. "27 people received at our hospital so far following an explosion in the PD17 area. 5 children among them, including a 7-year-old," the hospital said.

However, there has been no official statement on the toll. One Taliban intelligence official told Reuters that as many as 35 people may have been wounded or killed, and the toll could rise further. An unidentified official quoted by Al Jazeera put the toll at 20. According to Reuters, the imam of the mosque was among those victims. Investigations are ongoing. The imam was identified as Amir Mohammad Kabuli. No one has claimed the responsibility for the attack, Afghanistan's news agency Tolo News reported. On August 5, a bomb went off in a Kabul locality populated by Shias killing two persons.

FinMin may issue green bonds in H2

Sitharaman had announced the govt's plan to issue these bonds in her budget speech

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE Finance Ministry is working on a framework to issue green bonds in the second half of the current fiscal, a top government sources told TNIE.

Some part of the borrowing will be financed through these bonds for which the preparatory work is going on, said the sources, refusing to give details about the quantum. Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman in her budget speech had announced about the government's plan to issue green bonds in the fiscal year 2022-23 (FY23) as part of its overall market borrowing to mobilise resources for green infrastructure.

"The green bond framework will involve the details relating to commitment for climate change and green economy. Kind of initiatives being taken for the environment changes, deployment of resources etc. This is work-in-progress, after which it will be placed in the public domain, so that the investors can go through the framework," the source said.

"The framework will contain the details of the projects to be financed. As we are not making any additional borrowing, we have to borrow within the borrowing limits already decided in the budget."

"So, only those schemes will be financed which already fall within the ambit of the budget. Also, the requirement of funds for the execution of projects in the current financial year will be the deciding factor for quantum of bonds to be issued," the source added.

The source also said that the government will look at the pricing of bonds too. The green bonds should not be costlier than the normal bonds. Depending upon the response for these bonds, the government may consider raising funds via them from foreign investors, according to the sources.

In addition, speaking of the benefits of issuing green bonds, the source stated that at present, there are investors available for normal bonds but with the green bonds, the market will get diversified. The diversification of the market will help in getting competitive pricing.

Worst of crude oil prices behind us: FinMin official

After crude oil prices eased on Wednesday, a top Finance Ministry official said the worst is behind when it comes to rising oil prices. India imports more than 85% of its oil requirement. The oil prices were trading at $98 a barrel on Friday but came down to $92.04 per barrel on Wednesday on account of disappointing Chinese economic data. Retail sales in China surged by 2.7% in July from a year ago, while industrial production grew by 3.8% on a year-on-year basis. The Indian financial markets were closed on Monday and Tuesday due to Independence Day and Parsi New Year respectively. Meanwhile, external affairs minister S Jaishankar has defended India's crude oil imports from Russia. The US and some others may not appreciate India buying Russian oil, but they have accepted it and made them realise that the government had the "moral duty" to ensure the people got the "best deal", Jaishankar said. ENS

Sensex reclaims 60K level on FPI inflows after 4 months

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

AFTER a span of four months, BSE Sensex breached the 60,000 level on Wednesday on account of sustained foreign fund inflows and oil prices getting dropped to their lowest level since mid-February.

The 30-share index settled 417.92 points higher at 60,260.13 while the broader Nifty50 surged 119 points to surpass 17,900-mark. In its strongest rally of 2022, the Sensex has gained over 9,000 points since June 17 when it hit its current 52-week low of 50,921. The index now is just 2,000 away from its all-time highs of 62, 245.

Supported by a rally in the mother market of the US, there are multiple positives that are leading this rally. A fall in commodity and crude prices which has softened inflation worries is a major reason that seems to be cheering equity investors.

The consumer inflation in India for July came down to 6.71% after hitting 7.79% in April. In the US, July inflation came down to 8.5% from 9.1% in June. A decline in inflation rate prevents the central bank from going for a sharp interest rate hike and improves the earning margin of corporate entities.

However, no factor is as big as increased confidence of foreign investors in the Indian equity market. Foreign portfolio investors (FPI), who have been reducing their exposure in the Indian share market from October 2021 to June 2022, selling over ₹2.5 lakh crore worth of equity holdings, have turned net investors since July. In August so far, FPIs invested over ₹23,800 crore in the Indian share market.

"The encouraging macro readings (IIP up ~20%, GST collection, Rs1.44 lakh cr up 55.8%, moderating inflation 6.7%) and sound fundamentals are also giving markets new-found hope despite fluctuations," said Kedar Kadam, Director – Listed Investments, Waterfield Advisors. "The benchmark Nifty-50 has added over 2,500 points since lows in June. This sharp rally has pushed the valuation multiples near LT averages (20x+) which in our view makes risk reward less attractive amid uncertain global economic outlook and rising geopolitical tensions," added Kadam.

Major global brokerages such as Bank of America (BoFA) and Jefferies have recently warned of a sharp correction in the Indian equity market. BoFA on August 11 estimated that Nifty will be at 15,600 points by December 31, 2022. Investors, however, are showing no signs of slowing down and are accumulating blue-chip stocks. Asian Paints, Bajaj Finserv and IndusInd Bank stocks have gained about 35% in the last two months.

Govt likely to mop up ₹17,873 crore from 5G spectrum auction this fiscal

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

THE Department of Telecommunications (DoT) is likely to garner ₹17,873 crore from 5G spectrum auction this fiscal, according to the industry sources.

India's largest telecom operator Reliance Jio paid ₹7,864 crore, while Vodafone Idea (VIL) paid ₹1679 crore and Adani Data Networks paid ₹18 crore as their first instalment.

Meanwhile, India's second-largest telco Bharti Airtel chose to pay four instalments of ₹8312.4 crore in one go, as against 20 equal annual instalments in next 20 years. The Company believes that this upfront payment coupled with the moratorium on spectrum dues and AGR(adjusted gross revenue)-related payments for 4 years will free up future cash flows and allow Airtel to dedicate resources to concentrate on the 5G rollout.

"This upfront payment of 4 years allows us to drive 5G rollout in a concerted manner given our operating free cash flow. Airtel also has access to ₹15,740.5 crore in capital from the rights issue, which is yet to be called. With the ideal spectrum bank, best technology and adequate free cash flow, we are excited to bring to the country a world class 5G experience," said Gopal Vittal, MD and CEO of Bharti Airtel.

The telecom ministry garnered ₹1.53 crore in the just-concluded auction. Among the bidders, Jio was the most aggressive bidder, followed by Bharti Airtel and Vodafone Idea. Jio spent ₹88,078, Airtel invested ₹43,084 crore, while VIL put in ₹18,799 crore to acquire 5G spectrum.

As per the 5G auction modalities, the participants were given the option to pay the dues in 20 equal annual instalments; they can pay the entire amount or part of it upfront. Such part payment would be for at least two years or more.

"Over last one year, Airtel has also cleared ₹24,333.7 crore of its deferred spectrum liabilities much ahead of scheduled maturities," said Airtel in a statement.

HOSPITALITY SECTOR

Govt increases ECLGS limit by ₹50,000 crore

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE government on Wednesday approved the enhancement in limit of Emergency Credit Line Guarantee Scheme (ECLGS) by ₹50,000 crore for hospitality sector.

The overall allotment has been increased from ₹4.5 lakh crore to ₹5 lakh crore, with the additional amount being earmarked exclusively for the tourism and hospitality sector. The increase has been done on account of the severe disruptions caused by COVID-19 pandemic on hospitality and related enterprises, Union Information and Broadcasting Minister Anurag Thakur said.

The additional amount would be made applicable to enterprises in hospitality and related sectors till March 31, 2023.

"The enhancement is expected to provide much needed relief to enterprises in these sectors by incentivising lending institutions to provide additional credit of up to ₹50,000 crore at low cost, thereby enabling these business enterprises to meet their operational liabilities and continue their businesses," said the government in a statement.

About ₹3.67 lakh crore amount of loans have already been sanctioned under the scheme till August 5, 2022, the statement said. "While other sectors were back faster on recovery path, demand continued to be subdued for these sectors for longer period, suggesting the need for suitable interventions for their sustenance and recovery." The government further said given their high employment intensity and direct and indirect linkages with other sectors, their revival is also necessary for supporting overall economic recovery.

Razorpay acquires PoS payments start-up Ezetap

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

Fintech unicorn Razorpay has forayed into the offline payments space with the acquisition of Point of Sales (PoS) payments solution provider Ezetap Mobile Solutions. This is Razorpay's sixth acquisition, and according to sources, the deal size is nearly $150-$200 million.

Razorpay has now both online and offline presence in payments. BharatPe and MSwipe are already into the offline payments space.

While digital penetration is growing across India, offline payments remain an important part of the ecosystem.

Ezetap was founded in 2011, and it launched its first device under $50 in 2013, and it expanded to the UAE in 2018.

Ezetap provides software for financial technologies, including POS solutions, billing, loyalty solutions, among others, enabling businesses to accept payments in-store and on-delivery. The company currently serves over 5 lakh touchpoints, including Amazon, BigBasket, SBI, ICICI and Axis, among others and processes over $10 billion in annual transactions on its platform.

The Ezetap team of around 300 employees will be joining Razorpay, and work as an independent business unit within the company.

Prior to this, Razorpay acquired IZealiant Technologies, a fintech start-up that provides payments technology solutions for banks in March 2022.

Akasa Air to add one new aircraft every two weeks

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

AKASA AIR on Wednesday said it will keep adding one new aircraft every two weeks even as its main promoter and co-founder Rakesh Jhunjhunwala passed away Sunday morning, exactly a week after it made its maiden flight.

The country's newest airline has now received its third aircraft, which will be put into operation on Mumbai-Bengaluru route shortly. Vinay Dube, founder and CEO of Akasa Air, stated that the airline is well-capitalised, thanks to the late billionaire investor. "Thanks in no small part to Jhunjhunwala, for which we will always be grateful, Akasa Air is a well-capitalised airline with the financial means to induct 72 aircraft over the next five years," said Dube. Jhunjhunawala, who was often referred as the 'Big Bull' or 'India's Warren Buffet', had invested $35 million in the low cost carrier for a 40% stake. In November 2021, Akasa had inked a $9 billion deal with Boeing to purchase 72 MAX planes, which includes an initial delivery of 18 aircraft by March 2023 and the remaining 54 airplanes in the next four years.

Akasa claims that their financial platform is strong enough to place an aircraft order in the next 18 months that will be significantly larger order than their first one. "In simple terms, our growth is secure," it said.

Akasa's entry in the civil aviation market comes when the sector is going through a structural change - a privatised Air India under the Tata Group, stiff competition, weak recovery post covid-19 led lockdowns and record rise in jet fuel prices.

GOKULAM WOMEN GET BREATHER

ANMOL GURUNG @ Chennai

JUST a few days back (August 15), the official Gokulam Kerala FC twitter handle had posted pictures of a few women players at the airport lounge ahead of their departure to Uzbekistan for the AFC Women's Club Championship along with a message 'Let your dreams take flight'. The players were visibly happy as they were so close to realising their dreams.

Barely hours later, after landing in Tashkent, it all turned gloomy for the players and the rest of the support staff. The 31-member squad realised that their participation hung by the thread because of the ban imposed by FIFA (world body) on All India Football Federation (AIFF).

Because of the development, the local organisers, going by the strict Asian Football Confederation (AFC) rules, were left with no alternative but to deny the team, who were due to feature in West region matches along with two other clubs at Qarshi that's one hour flight from Tashkent. "The organisers have to follow the rules. We can't blame them. When the ban happened, they were also not sure if they could host us or not. There were talks of 'when is your next flight to Delhi?' and all that. The girls were really shattered," VC Praveen, the club president, told this newspaper on Wednesday.

But Praveen was adamant that the players, who had worked hard to come so far, stay and thus wrote to the Prime Minister's Office to offer solutions to the matter. That Hail Mary move worked as the sports ministry spoke to the AFC to allow them to stay for 48 hours, which also meant their accommodation and food is being taken care of as of now. According to the original itinerary, the team was supposed to travel to Qarshi, where the matches will be held, along with the other teams on Wednesday. Having been forced to miss that one-hour flight, the president was hopeful that the girls could at least start their training and had asked the club members to find a place to train.

"It looks like we are unwanted there, sort of. And the players are very emotional. They had been looking forward to this for a long time. I informed my club people to tell them that we are here to play. We will keep our fingers crossed and hope that things will fall in place and we'll play," he said.

"Yesterday night (Tuesday), I thought we will write to the PM's Office also because this is not a random friendly match or something, we earned the right to play in this event," he added. Despite the sports ministry's intervention, the clock is ticking for Gokulam. The Supreme Court is due to hear on August 22 while the event starts on August 20. Gokulam is due to play on August 23. The two-time I-League champions had rightfully earned the right to be part of this marquee event. Despite weather not favouring their training (Kerala monsoons), the team had been putting the hard yards behind the scenes for this.

Having said everything, Praveen is aware this is a difficult issue, and he's hoping for a 'miracle'. "Our only goal is to play."

T20Is, bilaterals vs Eng & Oz dominate India's FTP

VENKATA KRISHNA B @ Chennai

EVEN as more and more current and former players have been calling on a cut down of bilateral series, the new Future Tours Programme (FTP) released by the International Cricket Council (ICC) for the 2023-27 only sees an increase in number of matches. Even though domestic T20 leagues are sprouting across the globe, the bilateral series continue to occupy a major chunk of the calendar.

To give a clear context the 12 full members will play 777 matches — 173 Tests, 281 ODIs and 323 T20Is — from 2023-27 as against the 694 they will play when the current cycle ends in 2023. And as expected, it is India (38), England (43) and Australia (40) who will feature in the most number of Tests, and are part of the three marquee contests in the World Test Championship cycle, which will all be five-match series.

Out of the 38 Tests that India play, 20 are against England and Australia – 10 at home and 10 away. The remaining 18 will be against New Zealand (twice), Bangladesh (once), West Indies (twice), South Africa (twice), Sri Lanka (once). Barring the only series against the Black Caps at home in October 2024, all of these series will be a two-match affair. The Freedom Trophy for the Gandhi-Mandela Trophy which was given a marquee tag in the last two cycles and was played as three and four-match series has been reduced to only two Tests. While the BCCI has been trying hard to have its own international home season between September-November involving series against big teams, it hasn't been possible in the FTP. India play Bangladesh and New Zealand in 2024, West Indies and South Africa in 2025, West Indies in 2026. Instead, it is January-February, which sees maximum action with series against England, Australia, New Zealand and Sri Lanka between 2024-27.

In terms of bilateral limited-overs, India are scheduled to play not more than three matches in any of the ODIs. However, in T20Is they have amongst the busiest schedule and will play 61 bilateral matches, the second most behind West Indies.

Court asks ministry to resolve FIFA ban issue

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai/New Delhi

NOT much have changed since Tuesday when FIFA suspended the All India Football Federation (AIFF) but on Wednesday the Supreme Court on Wednesday asked the centre to take a proactive role and ensure that India is able to host the U-17 Women's World Cup in October. The court also asked the government to work on getting the suspension lifted.

The SG had already briefed the Supreme Court on Tuesday, after the FIFA banned AIFF late on Monday. Despite meetings on last Friday and Monday, the ministry could not stop FIFA from suspending AIFF and taking out the World Cup from India. The ministry is actively involved to keep the World Cup in India and has been in discussions with FIFA, the SC-appointed Committee of Administrators in AIFF and other stakeholders to defuse the situation.During the hearing, solicitor general Tushar Mehta submitted that the government had a meeting with FIFA and said some "breaking of ice had taken place." The SG said that the discussions are going on and that it won't be appropriate to put it out yet. He sought time until Monday.

On being informed by Mehta about these positive developments, the three-member bench of Justices DY Chandrachud, AS Bopanna and JB Pardiwala set August 22 as the next date for hearing. "We would impress on the Union of India to take a proactive role in the matter so that the holding of U-17 World Cup and the lifting of suspension of AIFF, in order to achieve that object is duly facilitated," the bench said in its order. Laying emphasis on the immediate impact, senior advocate Gopal Sankaranarayanan appearing for the Committee of Administrators submitted that a club from Kerala comprising young girls U-17 who had reached Uzbekistan for a football tournament would not be allowed to play.

What's in store for India?

As India play Zimbabwe at Harare after six years, a look at the key talking points ahead of the first ODI on Thursday...

RETURN OF RAHUL

After suffering from intermittent injuries, the Indian opener would be making a comeback to the side, trying to get some valuable game-time under his belt before heading into a gruelling T20 schedule. In all likelihood, he could open batting as he does in ODIs.

WILL SAMSON SHINE?

India have packed the squad with top-order batters — Ishan, Ruturaj, and Gil — Sanju Samson is the one to hold the middle-order together alongside Deepak Hooda should Rahul choose to open. He'd be itching to show some consistent performance in the format.

EYES ON INNOCENT

Innocent Kaia is the talk of the town over the last month in Zimbabwe. Almost everyone in the team management, including Sikandar Raza has spoken highly of the opener. Kaia has got his late international career off in style, scoring a match-winning ton against Bangladesh. Can he continue the same against India?

ALISON Riske and Elise Mertens will be two of the big attractions in the main draw of the women's singles event at the upcoming Chennai Open. The WTA 250 event, the first-of-its-kind meet to take place in the country, will also see Caroline Garcia, who has been as high as No 4 in the World. There is a potential likelihood for two wildcards ranked in the top-20 to be part of the event. The organisers have kept two slots open under this section. With the event taking place in the week after the US Open, if some of the big names lose in the first week, they could well be coming to Chennai.

Prakash Padukone

A badminton champ, coach and father of Deepika Padukone, Prakash Padukone wears many hats. The 67-year-old speaks exclusively to CE about his priorities in life, his father, and quest for the Olympic gold

'I DON'T WANT TO BE IN THE LIMELIGHT'

MONIKA MONALISA

ON the last visit to the Prakash Padukone Badminton Academy, the room was crammed with people and everyone, probably, was patiently waiting to click a picture with Prakash Padukone, the badminton colossus, who was the world number one in the '80s. He made sure to introduce himself when he met someone new. The humility and simplicity are contagious, and hard to miss.

Father of Deepika Padukone, the highest paid female actor in the country, Padukone says money was never a priority for him. It might sound hard to digest, but the way he explains it is quite convincing. "Over the past 10-15 years, my priorities have been fixed. I am not going to change. The first is health and second is peace of mind; third is money. I am happy with what I have, and I am not competing with anybody. If someone is making ₹100 crore or more, it does not affect me. I go where I am comfortable. I don't want publicity and don't want to be in the limelight," says Padukone, who is currently focusing on Padukone Sports Management which is working toward bringing up talents in badminton from the grassroots.

He doesn't claim to be infallible as a person, an athlete or even as a father, but he has given his two daughters – Deepika and Anisha – the freedom to choose what they wanted to become in life. Both have established themselves in different professions. "It was tough. Deepika moved to Mumbai when she was 18 years old. So it took time. For Anisha, I have shared my experience. It may not be related to golf, but something common like match preparation, how to accept defeats... these are common even in life. They have managed well," says the 67-year-old, adding that it was enunciated at their home that the girls had to work up the hard way, devoid of any recommendations or influence from their father.

Playing any sport and being successful involves a lot of sacrifices, and he is thankful that his family, especially his wife Ujjala Padukone for the support. "When you are playing or even as a coach, you have to make a lot of sacrifices. You can't be a normal person. You have to sacrifice a lot of family events and holidays. Ujjala and I have managed it well. She was extremely supportive," he says with a smile.

He has won many laurels for the country. Padukone was the first Indian to win the All-England Open Badminton Championships. But like many great sports personalities, it was his father Ramesh Padukone who introduced him to badminton. "Not many people know that my father was the one who started badminton in the state in the 1950s. He moved from Bombay then, and there was the State Badminton Association. He was the first secretary of the Mysore State Badminton Association. Since he was a national-level umpire, and a club-level player, my brother and I would go to the nearby club in the Canara Union in Malleswaram to play. Whenever he had time he would coach us. That's how the whole journey started," recalls Padukone, adding that after that he has been on his own.

Still passionate about the game, he started the Prakash Padukone Badminton Academy (PPBA), in his quest for an Olympic gold. "When I started the PPBA, the whole aim was to get an Olympic medal. There were talented players even before, but there was an extent to which we could do it because of availability of funds either from the government or the sponsors and corporates. This kind of support was not available," he explains, adding that although the situation is better now, the competition has become tougher. "It is no longer a one-man game. Earlier, one person would be on the top, and there was a long gap between one and two. So we know there are a bunch of players who are of the same level," he says.

Highlighting handlooms

A Handloom Fashion Walk was held recently to promote handloom culture & commend weavers and women entrepreneurs

ISHITA ANN BRUNO

WHEN global brands reign the market, threat looms over the indigenous sectors which is financially crippling the handloom weavers. On National Handloom Day on August 7, there's a crowd at handloom showrooms, a smidgen of debates over the sector's gradual decimation but the persistent ills that plague the industry are far from being resolved.

From a once-thriving sector, weavers are finding it difficult to sustain themselves. To promote the handloom culture and commend weavers and women entrepreneurs, the Women Entrepreneurs Ladders (WEL) hosted a Handloom Fashion Walk recently at Earthen Wellness in Ulsoor. This event was hosted by the founder of WEL Revathy Krishnakumar, and founder and MD of Earthen Wellness Sharmila Ravinder Dhareshwar.

"We wanted to promote handloom weavers to raise awareness about the dying industry. Every guest attended the evening in handloom sarees, and the 13 women entrepreneurs walked the ramp wearing handwoven sarees," said Krishnakumar, adding, "To celebrate 75 years of India's Independence, entrepreneurs walked the ramp showcasing Patola silk, Kanchipuram saree, Paithani and Assam silk saree, among others."

The plurality of India cannot be confined to only its religion and culture but also in attire and designs that convey the history. Dr Archana Diwan, a dental surgeon, who walked the ramp in an Assamese handwoven saree said, "The saree was purchased from one of the handloom exhibitions. I was able to buy the handwoven saree directly from the weaver."

Apart from the apathy of consumers, age has also shaken the sector's foundations with a majority of weavers becoming too frail to work and the young generation's sapping interest culminating in its downfall. Those who have taken up weaving are small in number since the occupation cannot sustain their families. "A majority of those in this sector are women. Supporting the handloom industry is a huge step towards women empowerment," said Priyanka Singh, director, Semillero International School.

FIT BIT

SAHAJA NAVASANA
(EASY BOAT POSE)

It is an easy, seated posture to help one prepare for intense yoga poses that require core strength. One engages the core, hips, thighs, and back muscles into work, making them more flexible and robust. If the correct posture is maintained during practice, then the gluteus muscles can also be strengthened. Stimulate the solar plexus chakra.

STEPS

- Begin from Dandasana (Staff Pose).
- Gently, sit on the hips, and stretch the legs forward. Breathe 3-4 times and stay calm.
- Bend your knees while bringing the feet close towards the body. Raise the arms off the floor and keep them slightly above the knees where both the palms are parallel and facing each other. Take a couple of breaths there.
- Make sure the thighs are tight and there should be a V-shape structure between the thighs and the torso.
- Incline back slightly as much as you can while breathing in. This is Easy Boat Pose. Hold for some time till you feel alright and maintain the pressure at the lower back.
- Exhale. Come back to Dandasana gently.

BENEFITS

- Strengthens core, lower back, and glutes. Tones muscles of the back and abdomen.
- Brings fresh oxygen to the brain.
- Helps and supports the body in remaining stable and strong.
- The breath awareness helps to teach concentration.
- Corrects postural and body alignment.
- Avoids spine alignment diseases like kyphosis and scoliosis.
- Addresses hunching in senior citizens.
- Helps to move energy in the sacral chakra area, while balancing through root chakra.
- Stimulates internal organs like stomach, pancreas, kidneys, gallbladder, intestines, spleen, liver and reproductive organs.
- Activates the Manipura chakra and balances the practitioner's emotions.
- Good for women who have recently given birth; helps in strengthening the core and pelvis.

LIMITATIONS

If you have had recent injury or surgery in hips, core, spine and shoulders, have weak shoulders, knee-joints, balancing or vertigo issues, severe back pain, avoid this pose. During pregnancy and the first two days of periods, avoid this.

Senior citizens can place a blanket under their hips to avoid pressure on the knees.

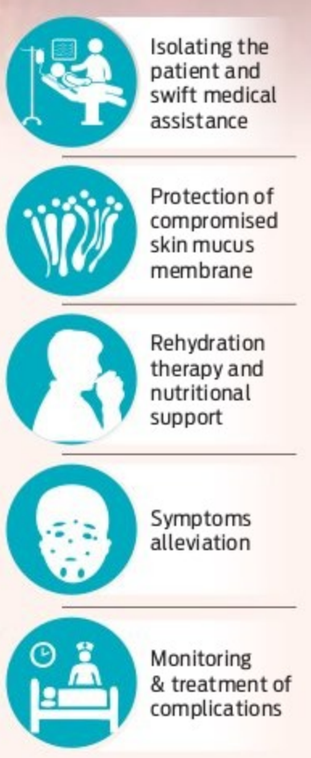
DECODING MONKEYPOX

The appearance of the infection has two stages of clinical features with a prodromal phase or early stage of symptoms characterised by fever, malaise, sweats, lymphadenopathy and headache followed by skin eruptions 2-4 days later



Isolating the patient and swift medical assistance
Protection of compromised skin mucus membrane
Rehydration therapy and nutritional support
Symptoms alleviation
Monitoring & treatment of complications

DR MURALIDHAR TR

MONKEYPOX is a viral zoonotic disease with symptoms similar to smallpox but with lesser clinical severity. Monkeypox, which was first discovered in 1958 among the colonies of monkeys kept for research, is caused by the orthopox virus, and humans rarely contract the disease.

The first case of monkeypox in humans was reported from the Democratic Republic of the Congo (DRC) in 1970. The disease has been at a low-level of endemicity in west and central Africa for decades, but now the pathogen has spread across the globe with over 16,000 cases across 75 countries.

The World Health Organisation (WHO) has declared monkeypox as a public health emergency of international concern (PHEIS), an indication that the challenges might be similar to that of Covid-19 pandemic.

The warning will prepare governments to equip themselves for prevention, surveillance, treatment and risk communication.

Transmission

Although the exact reservoir of the virus is still unknown, rodents are suspected to play a role in transmission. Several species of animals are susceptible to the infection. Animal to human transmission through handling and ingestion of wild game animals have been identified as the primary route of infection after studying the African outbreaks followed by human-to-human transmission through close contact with infected individuals.

Spread of respiratory droplets and direct contact with skin lesions and scabs have been described as the cardinal routes of transmission among humans. It can also take place through objects and materials which are likely to carry the infection such as clothes, utensils and furniture. At present, the incubation period is about 12 days, but it could range between five and 24 days.

Symptoms

The appearance of monkeypox infection has biphasic or two stages of clinical features with a prodromal phase or early stage of symptoms characterised by fever, malaise, sweats, lymphadenopathy and headache followed by skin eruptions two to four days later.

Skin lesions follow a typical pattern of evolution. It starts as macules, and progresses into papules, vesicles and pustules, which subsequently crusts and come off in scales or flakes.

Lesions predominantly affect the face (95 per cent), palms and soles (75 per cent), mucous membranes (70 per cent), but less commonly genitals. Most infections are self-limiting, and relatively mild with symptoms lasting two to four weeks.

Severe manifestations of infections include encephalitis, secondary skin infection, pneumonia, and ocular disease leading to a loss of vision. Those in the higher risk population include neonates, children and people with immunodeficiency.

Monkeypox variations

At present, a majority of cases has been transmitted among gay, bisexual and other men who have sex with men (MSM). Urgent research is needed for a deeper understanding about the modes of transmission of monkeypox with regard to secual contact, and also the possibility of asymptomatic transmission.

Rectal pain and penile edema are the most common symptoms which require admission to a hospital in case of the prevailing monkeypox infection as against cases which were detected earlier.

Treatment

Treatment of monkeypox is mainly supportive. The illness is usually mild, and those infected will recover within a few weeks without treatment. Vaccination against smallpox can be used for both pre-and post-exposure which is up to 85 per cent effective in preventing monkeypox. Those vaccinated against smallpox in childhood may experience a milder form of the disease.

Smallpox vaccine, Cidofovir, Tecovirimat, antiviral drug for smallpox can be used, and should be domestically produced and stocked.

The writer is head and senior consultant, department of intensive care & critical care, Kauvery Hospital, Electronics City

DIAGNOSIS

Clinical diagnosis of monkeypox can be difficult as it is often confused with other infections such as chickenpox. A definite diagnosis of monkeypox requires assessment by a health professional and specific testing in a specialist laboratory (PCR testing).

Don't throw away the peel

SHREYA VERONICA

A lot of us love bananas and not just for its flavour, but also because it's rich in its nutritional value and is the easiest fruit to consume — just peel and you're done, isn't it? Wrong! What if we told you you'd be losing a lot more that the fruit has to offer if you toss the peel away? Here's an interesting fact: These banana peels are actually nutritious which could be beneficial for your health. To learn more about this, we speak to a nutritionist and dietitian who breaks it down for us.

G Sushma, chief clinical dietitian at Care Hospitals, talks about why you must keep the banana peel. "The banana peel is not only edible but also rich in key nutrients including potassium, dietary fibre, polyunsaturated fats and essential amino acids. It is also rich in antioxidants, and some research suggests that antioxidants can reduce inflammation and protect against chronic conditions, such as heart disease, cancer and diabetes. The high level of tryptophan in bananas, combine with the B6 in banana peels can help relieve some symptoms of depression and other mood disorders. Tryptophan turns into serotonin as it breaks down which can improve your mood. Vitamin B6 can help improve sleep, which has a positive impact on mood over time. Fibre-rich banana peels can help regulate the digestive system, easing both constipation and diarrhea. This can be particularly important benefit of banana peels for people with irritable bowel syndrome," she explains.

"The peel has to be processed properly so that indigestion does not occur. Also, remember to use it in small amounts," says Sujatha RD

Sharing how one can consume the banana peel right, she says, "When getting started, be sure to pick very ripe bananas as the peels of these bananas are often sweeter and thinner, which may make them more appealing. To prepare the banana, simply remove the stem and wash the peel thoroughly and then toss it in a blender. Add it to your favourite smoothie recipe or sneak it into your loaf of banana bread. You can also try baking, boiling or frying the peels which helps soften their texture making them easier to eat."

Sujatha RD, a nutritionist, says, "Banana peel powder is mostly used for skin, but when it comes to its intake one can use as it as a supplement. It improves immunity as well and builds up white blood cells. It is also good for irritable bowl syndrome. The peel has to be processed properly so that indigestion does not occur, also, remember to use it in small amounts. You can use it in your decoction and salads too."

Low levels of stress hormone may indicate long Covid, shows study

Low levels of a stress hormone called cortisol can also indicate the lingering symptoms post a Covid infection, according to a study not peer-reviewed yet. Long Covid symptoms can adversely affect day-to-day activities, and in some cases can be severely limiting. Researchers from the Yale University in the US included 215 individuals, including 99 with long Covid, in an exploratory, cross-sectional study using machine learning methods to identify key immunological features distinguishing long Covid. "Based on machine learning, cortisol levels alone were the most significant predictor for long Covid classification," wrote Akiko Iwasaki, from the Department of Immunobiology, at Yale School of Medicine along with other researchers. — IANS

Dehydration preventing hormone linked to worsening kidney disease

A steroid hormone called aldosterone - known to prevent dehydration - is linked to an increased risk of kidney failure in patients with chronic kidney disease (CKD), according to a study led by an Indian-American researcher. Aldosterone is a steroid hormone which controls blood pressure. The study, published in the European Heart Journal, showed the risk of CKD developing into end-stage kidney disease was independent of whether or not patients had diabetes. The team, led by Dr Ashish Verma, assistant professor at Boston University School of Medicine, US, investigated the associations between aldosterone concentrations in the blood and kidney disease progression among 3,680 participants aged between 21 and 74. In follow-up of 10 years, CKD progression occurred in 1,412 participants. — IANS

Kannada industry has looked after me very well: Anant Nag

CE FEATURES

ONE thing that has been constant in Yogaraj Bhat's filmography is the presence of veteran actor Anant Nag. The collaboration that began in Mungaru Male continued through Gaalipata, Pancharangi, Vastu Prakara, and now, Gaalipata 2. The veteran plays a pivotal role in the film that stars Ganesh, Diganth, and Pawan Kumar in the leads. "It was a delight doing Gaalipata 2, and working with Ganesh. I'm equally happy for Ramesh Reddy, who gave his best as a producer. I kept telling him that Gaalipata 2 will be a winner for him, and I'm glad to know that it is doing well," says Anant Nag.

The senior actor also gave us an insight into his choice of roles, which had a tectonic shift when he turned 49. "Over all these years, I have tried my hands in arts, science, and commerce, and realised that I was getting nowhere. It was God's will that I got a chance to act in a play, and became an actor. It's been a big journey. I'm happy and lucky to be an actor. God gave me a lot of opportunities, and the Kannada industry has looked after me very well. My stint in politics kept me away from films, and I realised how much I missed acting. It's been a wonderful journey, which I want to enjoy to the fullest," he says.

Anant Nag says that playing a Kannada professor in Gaalipata 2 was complex and challenging. "I had a lot of discussions with Yogaraj Bhat about the film, and ultimately he brought out the best. It was a wonderful creation by the director, and it was a pleasure to mouth those dialogues penned by him. Having studied in Kannada medium in my school days, I have a lot of admiration for the language. So this role as a Kannada professor was special to me. I was very careful, and insisted that my character should be special, and in contrast to the 3 boys and the 3 girls. He pulled it off marvelously," he says.

Calling his experiences of working with Ganesh a delight, Anant Nag says, "Just like me, Ganesh too has a natural style of acting. Even in this film, he plays a character that is very close to mine. We have worked together in a few films, and he brings out the best in me. I hope he feels the same while working with me too," says Anant Nag.

Gaalipata 2 is a story about friends, and the senior actor reminisces on his own friendships and his bonding with teachers. "In the first 8 years, I was educated in the Karavali area. Then I went to Bombay, where I got to make a new set of friends. After I started working in drama, I got another set of people. However, when I started my cinema career in Bengaluru, I didn't have many friends here. The teacher or the bonding of friendship came to me with the journalists of Karnataka. They were all 15 to 20 years older than me, yet we were all like friends. They were my well-wishers, who would review my films and guide me. I lacked friends because I didn't do my schooling here, and that void was filled by YNK, VN Subbarao, Narayan Swamy, and Seshadri among others. Unfortunately, none of them are alive today," he says.

The legendary actor who will celebrate 50 years of his film journey in January 2023 still craves challenging roles. The actor has an interesting lineup of films up his sleeve, which includes Made in Bengaluru, Abra ka Dabra, a biopic on Vijayanand, Thimmayya and Thimmayya, and Mysore Masala, which is currently at different stages of production.

Shivarajkumar to make a guest appearance in R Chandru's Kabzaa

A SHARADHAA

R Chandru has been creating the right kind of noise with his upcoming Pan-India film, Kabzaa. Starring Upendra in the lead, Kabzaa also has Sudeep playing a pivotal character. The latest actor to join this multilingual mass entertainer is Century Star Shivarajkumar, who joined the sets on Wednesday to feature in an extended cameo, says our source.

The period drama features Upendra as the underworld don and Sudeep in the role of Bhargav Bakshi. However, details about Shivarajkumar's role have been kept under wraps. Even as we wait for an official confirmation from the makers, the prospects of seeing the three of the biggest stars on screen is enticing.

Kabzaa, set in between 1940 and 1980, is in the last phase of its shooting, and the project is simultaneously going into post-production. The film, to be out in 7 languages, including Kannada, Telugu, Tamil, Malayalam, Hindi, Odiya, and Bengali has Shriya Saran paired alongside Upendra. With Ravi Basrur onboard as the composer, the film boasts of an ensemble cast including the likes of Jagapathi Babu, Rahul Dev, Anup Revanna, Kabir Duhan Singh, Danish Akhtar Saifi, Pradeep Rawat, Jayaprakash, Murali Sharma, and Kota Srinivas among others.

'THE TITLE OF LOVE 360 WAS INSPIRED BY AB DE VILLIERS'

...says director Shashank, who talks about his upcoming film, that stars newcomer Praveen and Rachana Inder

CE FEATURES

DIRECTOR Shashank is known for introducing new faces to Sandalwood. It was in the filmmaker's Sixer that Prajwal made his silverscreen debut. Yash and Radhika Pandit made their tinsel town entry with his film, Moggina Manasu. He also brought Mayuri to the silver screen with Krishna Leela. His next, Love 360, introduces Praveen to Sandalwood along with 3-film-old actor Rachana Inder getting her first solo lead. The director reveals that his search for new talents was a lesson that he learned from his guru, and music composer, Hamsalekha. "I am a student of Hamsalekha university. He would always tell us that we must concentrate on the content, and our films must bring out the nativity. He often said that the director should create an identity among the audience. So, I was mentally fixed that my first few films should star newcomers, and I should prove it with my skills, and I should credit the production houses, who gave me an opportunity," he says.

Shashank says Love 360 was a project that came by accident. "I consider this as a God-sent project. I had a film with Upendra in the pipeline, and I had no plans to work with newcomers for at least 2 years. But pandemic changed plans," says the director, adding, "While Praveen approached me with a wish to become an actor, I heard his backstory, and that pushed me to do Love 360. I heard that Praveen's father is no more. He was a doctor, who is known to have served the people in his hometown, and people still consider him as God. This story connected with me, and I thought it was important to encourage him and fulfil his wish," he says, adding, "Rachana was chosen after audition, and she perfectly fits the bill."

Shashank

Love 360 is the story between a boat mechanic and Jaanu, who is dealing with mental issues, and Shashank calls them the two pure souls of Love 360. There are a few more new faces introduced through Love 360.

Nature plays an important role in the film, and Shashank says, "Gokarna is called the mini Goa of Karnataka, and I chose to shoot the entire film in that coastal area."

A still from Love 360

The director also revealed the idea behind the interesting title. "Title Love 360 was inspired by AB de Villiers. I was searching for the title, and I picked it up while watching the previous IPL season. AB de Villiers is called Mr 360 because his batting covers every angle on the ground. Likewise, our hero completely loves his girl. I felt Love 360 justifies this romantic drama," he says.

Shashank also takes responsibility for producing the film under Shashank Cinemas. "As a producer, it is a risk working with newcomers, especially with today's situation. I think at times it is good to take that risk. I believe in the content. The songs by Arjun Janya have been a good invitation, and he has done a good job with the recording. There is good work by cinematographer Abhilash Kalathi. There are good vibes about Love 360, and I'm ready to face the results," he signs off.

1770: Ashwin Gangaraju to helm period drama based on Bengali novel Anandamath

CE FEATURES

ASHWIN Gangaraju who made his directorial debut with Aakashvani, is set to direct upcoming multilingual film 1770, based on Bankim Chandra's Bengali novel Anandamath. The makers released the motion poster of the film on Wednesday.

The film is produced by Shhailendra Kkumar, Sujayy Kuttiy, Krishna Kumar B and Suraj Sharma under the banner of SS1 Entertainment and PK Entertainment. In a statement issued by the makers, Ashwin said, "This subject was a huge challenge for me, but with legendary V Vijayendra Prasad sir writing the adapted story and screenplay, I think what we have on paper is a blockbuster cinematic experience." Ashwin has previously assisted SS Rajamouli in Eega and Baahubali

It is to be noted that Vande Mataram song first appeared in Anandamath. The upcoming film is written by V Vijayendra Prasad. "I feel that Vande Mataram was a magical word. It was a mantra that was given by Maharishi Bankim Chandra for a nation to unite against tyranny and injustice. In 1770, we dealt with the story of unknown warriors who ignited the fire of the freedom movement." 1770 will be made in Hindi, Telugu, Tamil, Malayalam, Kannada and Bengali. The casting is underway and will be announced by Diwali. The film is currently in the pre-production stages.

'I will fill Brahmastra with so much light, it will dispel the darkness'

SHILAJIT MITRA

AYAN Mukerji has a cheery, eclectic workspace. A large-size infinity gauntlet sits below a Shiva sketch-up. On his desk, a Potter bobblehead next to the quote—"I'm not bossy, I'm the boss". The books reflect a jumble of genres and preoccupations: Bukowski's The Pleasures of the Damned, the entire Artemis Fowl collection, The Hobbit, Devdutt Pattanaik, Roger Ebert. I also noticed Geetanjali Shree's Tomb of Sand, a book on the RSS, and a wall full of spoiler-y concept material I'm not allowed to divulge.

Ayan, though chatty and relaxed, also sounds a bit on edge—Brahmastra is just a few weeks from release. He's knee-deep into mixing and mastering and finalising the film's music. "The thing with Pritam da is," Ayan grins, "he always kicks in at the last moment."

Over steaming cups of tea, we spoke to Ayan about the conception of Brahmastra, setting up the 'Astraverse', the centrality of Shiva to the trilogy and the unprecedented VFX work on the film. Excerpts...

When did Brahmastra begin for you and how?

Growing up, I was a big fan of the fantasy-adventure genre. I was one of the youngest kids I knew to have read The Lord of the Rings. I was also quite religious.

Some 11 years ago, I was in the Himalayas to write the second half of Yeh Jawaani Hai Deewani. I would write in the day and set off for a long walk in the evening. One day, I was walking through the forest path when I started ideating. And the minute I opened that Pandora's box, it was like 'boom'. Everything that I had read and loved and where I had reached in life and the surrounding of the mountains...it all came together to make me feel the space of Brahmastra.

It happened just like that, in an instant?

It certainly did. Between 4 pm and 6 pm, I knew I had it. I had landed my 'Star Wars' idea. I almost did not want to make Yeh Jawaani Hai Deewani anymore. I called Ranbir up and told him I have found the idea of my life. I wanted to make a wonderful fantasy film that was drawing its energy not from the world of science but from ancient India and the energies that make up the universe. It's powerful as well as an obvious source if you grew up in India and are connected to some kind of spirituality. It was a long journey from there to conceptualise the whole film.

Let's dig into some of the mythos you are setting up. I want to start with the Brahmansh, an ancient secret society entrusted to protect divine weapons.

The Brahmansh came from that word we read and hear about often: The Illuminati. I took the idea of a secret society but applied it to Indian culture. It's not a society of immortals, to be clear. They're human beings living a normal life. Some of them may have lived longer than an average person but eventually they die and pass on their gift to another generation. And Mr. (Amitabh) Bachchan is the guru of today's Brahmansh.

I counted seven astras (Jal, Pawan, Agni, Nandi, Vanar, Prabha and Brahm) in the promos. Given that it's called the 'Astraverse', will there be more?

There are about 10 in the first film. Few of them don't even come up by name. As we open Part Two, we will start building on the universe. I do have more in my mind. You can compare the astras to The Infinity Stones or various references in Hindu culture. But to be honest, they were really created in my imagination. We've used the word 'astras' because it's the most apt. But initially, I had names like, say, 'the anklet of flight'. They were concepts I imagined could have existed back in the day if people were harnessing the natural powers of the universe.

You've said that the protagonist, a DJ played by Ranbir Kapoor, is not an incarnation of Lord Shiva, as people might imagine. Can you elaborate more on the character?

Shiva is a simple boy who has a connection with fire. He's an anomaly in the world of Brahmastra. In a group of people who use astras to control energies, he is born an astra himself. There were many reasons for me to name him Shiva. Ranbir's character wields a fiery trident in the film, which is Lord Shiva's weapon. He's a DJ—so there's a little connection there between music and dance and the Nataraja depiction of Shiva. It's also said that when Brahma and Vishnu were fighting, Shiva was born from a pillar of fire. Even the Brahmastra weapon in our film is depicted almost like Lord Shiva's third eye which, once opened, cannot be controlled. In Part One, Ranbir is more like the Bholenath version of Lord Shiva. He's yet to become the fiery destroyer we know.
